Triumvirate to Replace Lenine for 6 Mos.

BERLIN, June 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Independent Socialist Freiheit says today that a triumvirate will take the place of Premier Lenine of soviet Russia during a six months' absence from Moscow, when his health will oblige him to take. The three men who will hold the reins, according to this newspaper, are J. V. Stalin, Leo Kamen-eff and A. I. Rykoff. M. Stalin is a Georgian Bolshevik of Turkish nationality, described as a strong man, the newspaper article continues.
M. Kameneff is president of the Moscow soviet and is considered a liberal. M. Rykoff was one of the first champions of the new economic policy. He is believed to have liberal views but, Die Freiheit adds, is not considered a strong man. The appointment of the triumvirate has been reported unofficially by the communist party.

LONDON, June 14.—Charges that 1300 Christian women and chiltelegram received by the Greek defense committee here from Archbishop Metaxakis, Greek patriarch of Constantinople.

THE MAYOR'S PACKARD

Car Was Registered Three Days Before Competitive
Bids Were Opened

What is competitive bidding as it applies to equipment or supplies bought for the city of Lowell?
Last Saturday at 11 a. m. the purchasing agent opened bids to furnish an automobile for the mayor's department at a cost not to exceed $5000.
That noon the mayor purchased, or ordered a Packard single-six touring car, which was immediately delivered, at a cost of $2998.

Today, a clerk in the registry of motor vehicles in Boston gave out the information that registration number 268,345 is for a Packard car, registered in the name of The City of Lowell, Mayor's Department, on June 7, June 7 was Wednesday, or 12 hours before the bids were opened.

Naturally, people wonder why a Packard car was registered in the name of the mayor's department two days before the competitive bids were opened. Six dealers submitted bids on the registration and the Packard proposal was the highest of the lot.

The question now arises—is competitive bidding on city supplies anything but a meaningless performance with the article to be purchased already determined upon beforehand?

Lowell Advertising Club Observes Flag Day at Regular Weekly Luncheon

Flag day was appropriately observed by the Lowell Advertising club at its weekly luncheon held this noon in the girls' city club with 250 members in attendance. Following the luncheon, President Frank Ricard called the meeting to order and announced that the club would pay a tribute to the flag.

The president introduced John J.
Walsh, historian of the American Legation, who led the salute to the flag.
This was followed by the singing of the Star Spangled Banner. The flag was loaned through the courtesy of the legation.

Some members called for the singing of the club's booster song and this was put across in big time style with Miss Sadie Sheehan, leading the singers, and George Smith at the piano. Miss Sheehan later rendered several solos upon request of the chair.

Edward J. Cooney, chairman of the Schenck Circle, made a report on the meeting of that branch held Monday night. He announced the appointment of chairmen for several committees which will start to function as soon as the winter program of the club is mapped out. The following were announced: educational committee, Miles Dallison; dinner committee, Frank McPherson; entertainment committee,
Charles Keyser; outing committee,
Robert Wood; budget committee,
Lewis Balfe. Committees on luncheon speakers and a "Made in Lowell" exhibit will be appointed later.

The club plans to have one more meeting next week, and then suspend

USE TEAR GAS TO SAVE SLAYER

Prisoner Spirited Out of Jackson, Mich., as Mob of 1000 Storms Jail

Authorities Resort to Use of Gas Bombs to Repel Advance of Angry Crowd

JACKSON, Mich., June 14.—Use of tear gas to repel the advances of more than a thousand angry citizens of Jackson, who sought to take George Straub, confessed slayer of Miss Alice Mallett, from the custody of the sheriff, is largely responsible for Straub's safety in an unnamed Michigan city today.

The prisoner, disguised as a city fireman, marched through the ranks of the crowd that sought his life last night, and was spirited out of Jackson several hours before it was learned he had left the jail.

Several units of National Guardsmen, police reserves and state police officers assisted the local authorities today in guarding against recurrence of disorder.

In the crowd that stormed the county jail were more than 100 women. One of the leaders of the movement was a white-haired woman, who first pleaded with officers to deliver the prisoner, then demanded it, and finally was at the head of several rushes of the crowd toward the jail doors.

Each time the situation grew threatening, officers resorted to the use of gas bombs, which scattered the crowds.

meetings until cooler weather. Plans are being worked up for an exhibition, to be held in the auditorium, which will display only goods made in this city.
Next week's meeting will be a monster one and something big is promised by the committee working on the affair.

Harry Pearson, a former Lowell boy, now connected with the O. J.
Gude advertising company of New York, was present as Mr. Cooney's guest and he was called upon to say a few words. He complimented the local organization upon its rapid growth and said that this city now boasted of the second largest advertising club in New England. He told of his work in connection with the organization of advertising clubs in New England, while a member of the national board of advertisers.

Class of 13 Graduated

With the celebration of a solemn high mass in the pretty convent chapel, the 1922 class of Notre Dame academy was graduated this morning at 10 o'clock. The celebrant of the mass was Rev. Francis L. Keenan. He was assisted by Rev. Joseph A. Curtin, as Shortly before 10 o'clock the members of the class, gowned in white and wearing long white veils admirably suited to the spiritual beauty of the occasion, entered the chapel and took seats in the front pews on either side of the main aisle. The body of the chapel was well filled with friends and relatives, and the corridor in the rear was crowded with additional seats for the accommodation of the late comers.

AUTOMOBILES COLLIDE IN GORHAM STREET

A Ford touring car owned by Leslie Gould of Malden, and a Buick touring car, owned by Thomas A. Ray, of West Somerville, and driven by Mrs.
Ray, collided in upper Gorham street, near the Quinn coal company shortly after noon today. Although both cars were smashed up quite a bit, the occupants of both escaped injury.

According to the story told to Inspector John Walsh of the police department, who was called to the scene following the report that a bad accident had happened in Gorham street, Mrs.
Ray attempted to pass one car and crashed into the other.

Another report of the accident, told by a witness to it, states that the Ford car was coming up Gorham street and the Buick car out of Dix street, where the party in it had been to look at the ruins of the Quinn fire, when the Buick struck the Ford
broadside.

REPORT BRITISH LOAN TO IRELAND

To Aid in Financing Dublin
Government Until it Can Function Satisfactorily

Considerable Optimism Regarding Status of Irish Negotiations

LONDON, June 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Considerable optimism is felt regarding the status of the Irish negotiations, and it is suggested in some quarters that today's conference, may be the last. In any event, it is declared that very little more discussion will be necessary for a complete agreement.
Yesterday's conversations with reference to safeguarding the minorities in the south are understood to have been entirely satisfactory and will probably result in the insertion in the new Irish constitution of provisions under which the minorities will be enabled to share in the government of the Free State.
It is reported that the British treasury may make a loan to the Dublin government until it is functioning more effectively.

Not Requested to Take Oath

LONDON, June 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—The members of the Irish provisional parliament, which has been summoned for July 1, will not be required to take the oath prescribed by the treaty. Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary for the colonies, announced in the house of commons yesterday afternoon, although the members of the provisional government will be required to do so under the terms of the treaty.
As for the members of the parliament of the Free State, he explained they would have to take the oath.
The colonial secretary made his announcement in answer to questions concerning the Irish provisional parliament.

Robert Munro, secretary for Scotland, replying to heated questions with regard to the meetings which Eamon de Valera purposes to address this week, declared that the government had no power to prevent the meetings.

Coast Artillery Company Or-

National Guard Units Insufficient to Control Situation
Following Dynamiting

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 14.—The 343rd company, Coast Artillery, from this city, was on duty this morning in the Pawtuxet valley, where it was hurried on orders from Governor Sanborn, after Adjutant General Charles W. Abbot, investigating the attempt at dynamiting of the Flat River reservoir, informed the executive last night that the National Guard cavalry units there were insufficient to control the situation.

B. B. and R. Knight, Inc., the reopening of several of whose mills in the district has brought the strike situation to a critical point, late last night obtained from Presiding Justice Tanner of the superior court a restraining order against officers and members of the Amalgamated Textile Workers of America.

The order which prohibits attempts to interfere with employees of the corporation, was sought after a tumultuous assemblage in Arctic village, in the course of which windows in the homes of a number of mill workers were smashed.

Judge Tanner set June 20 as the date for hearings on the question of issuance of an injunction against the strikers and orders subpoenas to issue for William H. Derrick and James M.
Dick, organizers for the Amalgamated, and Thomas E. Harrup, chairman of the Pawtuxet valley strike committee.

CONFER WITH MAYOR ON PLAYGROUND PLAN

Members of the parent-teachers' association of the Morey school and other residents of the Highlands who are interested in the development of an adequate playground in that residential section, held an informal conference this forenoon with Mayor George H. Brown, to enlist his interest in a proposition to acquire additional land in the neighborhood of the school.

Albert W. David was the spokesman for the group, although a number of other men and women, including William W. Bennett, headmaster of the Morey school, spoke in favor of the idea.

According to present plans, it is the wish of the people interested that the city take over land on the easterly side of Morey street, adjacent to the school grounds and running back as far as Shaw street. On the west side of Wilder street two two-flat houses would be acquired and the land used for the development and enlargement of the play area.

Mr. David said today that he does not believe that the total cost would exceed $1000, and added that unless some action is taken on the project at the present time, the opportunity may slip by and future building on the land would make the taking both impractical and expensive.

Auditorium Maintenance and School Repairs Also Provided For

Feeling that the appropriations voted many of the city departments this year when the budget was adopted are not large enough to carry through the 12 months, a plan is in the process of development at city hall, whereby additional appropriations to the amount of approximately $85,000 will be passed in the form of a supplementary budget, although the money will be taken from the prior revenue account and therefore, will not be applicable to the tax levy of 1922.

Mayor Brown said today that the plan in taking shape and possibly may be presented to the city council for consideration tomorrow night. Departments included in the disbursement and the amounts tentatively decided upon for each follow:

Repairs to School	$25,000
Buildings	25,000
Police	5,000
Claims	5,000
Fire	7,000
Memorial Auditorium	20,000
Total	$87,000

It has been felt for some time by several members of the council that additional moneys would have to be provided some time during the year to "piece out" in a number of departments. The buildings department, for instance, has been obliged to run along on half-time work for its employees and claims paid so far this year have left that appropriation of $5000 practically depleted. The purchase of a ladder truck in the fire department for $5000 cut a hole in that appropriation and the police department appropriation, also, has shown signs of being unable to last through the year.

The whole matter, however, was brought to a head only recently, when the council committee on public properties, Councilor Appleton, chairman, recommended that repairs be made on a number of school buildings and the police station, at an estimated cost of $25,000. It was impossible to have the buildings department do the work out of its appropriation and the question then arose as to how the money could be secured. Including it in a general order such as outlined above would solve the matter, it is believed.
As to the $30,000 for the Memorial auditorium, the mayor has had an order before the council for some time, to transfer this amount from the overplus account to auditorium maintenance. A number of

HEALTH BOARD ISSUES WEEKLY REPORT

In order that the weekly activities of the various sub-divisions of the health department might be kept before the public, the board of health has prepared a review of the work accomplished during the week ending June 10. Not because last week was an exceptionally busy one, but because it seemed to strike an average, was the selection made.

DRY LECTURER

KILLS WOMAN
PHILADELPHIA, June 11.—George Tyler of Baltimore, lecturer on "The Pitfalls of Rum," was held by the coroner yesterday to be criminally responsible for the death of Miss Mary Ensey on May 27, on the ground that he was intoxicated while driving the automobile that killed her. He was bound over to await grand jury action.

When Police Surgeon Keller testified that Tyler was unsteady and smelled of alcohol during his examination right after the accident, Tyler called his physician to prove that he suffered from locomotor ataxia, causing him to be unsteady on his feet. The doctor testified that Tyler was unsteady due to a medicine he took for the ailment, which left a liquorous odor on his breath.

The lecturer was shown to have been on his way to deliver an anti-rum speech at whosever Mission when the woman met her death.

James J. Reynolds, Ethelred Willmott, Martin E. Connors, Kenneth Goward and Thomas Pines; manual training department, Emilio E. Gellman; commercial department, Mary E. Egan, Carmen Rediker; domestic science, Susan D. Driscoll, M. Helene Regan, Jennie C. Meahan, Blanche Boyle, and Agnes M. Dalton; drawing, Georgia Blackwell. All of these elected belong in Lowell.

The election of nine academic teachers automatically displaced William A. Donovan and Joseph M. Donoghue, each of whom has been teaching at the high school regularly for the past year. Also, the recommendations of the superintendent of schools were not followed in every instance.

The other feature of the meeting was Mr. Sullivan's objection to the wording of a certain scholarship to be given to a Jewish student at the high school by the Board of Education. The wording of the scholarship as appearing in the program of studies for next year is as follows: "The Independent Order of B'nai B'rith of Lowell has established a scholarship for a deserving graduate of the high school of Jewish faith, boy or girl, preference being given to a candidate for a college of liberal arts. Information concerning this scholarship may be obtained from the headmaster."

The part Mr. Sullivan objected to was the words "of Jewish faith." He contended that it would establish a precedent if such a scholarship were allowed to stand and that it would be as bad as bringing in a clause which would have to do with politics. He claimed that the schools of Lowell should not recognize any certain faith and that the wording of the scholarship would do just that thing.

Principal Henry H. Harris was called upon to explain the matter. He said that he could now see that the wording of the scholarship might be a little offensive but that he was sure the order would be glad to have the objectionable part stricken out. The committee voted to instruct Mr. Harris to look into the matter and take it up with the B'nai B'rith.

The meeting was called to order at 11:15 o'clock by Chairman James H. Riley with all members present. He announced that this was a special meeting to take up the matter of electing high school teachers and any other business which might come before the body.

The first business taken up was the recommendation of the business agent, that steps be taken to connect the heating plant of the high school annex with the new building. The recommendation was adopted and left with the business agent. The business agent was also authorized to attend to the matter of renting a plot of land next to the Butler school, and to erect a fence between the property and adjoining property, if such a fence were needed.

The salary of Miss Eaton, a teacher previously elected to the Bartlett training school, was fixed at $1800. All voted with the exception of Mr. Mullin.

A recommendation was read from Mr. Harris, which would change the hours of the high school session. Mr. Harris explained that under the present arrangement it was impossible to properly prepare the scholars for institutions of higher learning. The new schedule as adopted calls for the school to open at 8:15 and to close at 1:45.

Election of Teachers
When it came to the election of the teachers Mr. Mullin was called upon to present his recommendations. The recommendations were read and accepted by the committee, however, some of the teachers elected were not upon the superintendent's recommendation. Several members of the committee refused to follow the lead of others in voting for those who had not been recommended.

The first members elected were to be connected with the academic department. They were chosen with little or no discussion.

On a motion of Mr. Delaney Mr. Gellman was elected. The election of Miss Egan and Miss Rediker to the commercial department followed. When it came to the election of a third teacher for this department, a tie was made and the tie was broken upon the table. There were several in opposition to this and a roll call was ordered. The motion prevailed by a slight margin.

When it came to the election of the head of the domestic science department, Mr. Harris came forward with recommendations for Miss Helen B. Lockwood. He said that Miss Lockwood was qualified for the position in every way and that she had a great record to look back upon.

Mr. Delaney offered the name of Miss Mary E. Lane, a Lowell girl, and read her qualifications. This was followed by the reading of the qualifications of Miss Susan B. Driscoll by Mr. Sullivan.

Supt. Mullin then spoke of the qualifications of Miss Lockwood, and said that if the committee did not look with favor upon the application of Miss Lockwood, he thought it should seriously consider that of Miss Driscoll, also a Lowell girl, who has had much experience in that line. On the third ballot Miss Driscoll was elected. The election of her three assistants followed.

The election of Miss Blackwell to the drawing department was unanimous.

TSAFFARAS RESIGNS FROM POLICE FORCE

Patrolman Peter Tsaffaras, last night resigned as a member of the Lowell police department. Following his resignation the charges preferred against him Monday night by Superintendent of Police Thomas R. Atkinson were withdrawn.

Tsaffaras was removed from duty by Supt. Atkinson on Monday night for failing to answer a general alarm fire call and for failure to report a duty call. Tsaffaras then had a conference with Mr. Atkinson, at which time it was agreed that he would resign if the removal order were revoked. This was done yesterday afternoon and the officer resigned last night.

His resignation reads as follows: "I hereby tender my resignation as police officer of the city of Lowell. This resignation to take effect immediately."

Tsaffaras then turned in his badge, belt and club and waited from the station without making a statement of any kind.

Urge Defeat of Ship Subsidy Bill

FREDONIA, N. Y., June 14.—Influence of the National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, will be exerted to defeat the ship subsidy bill, Sherman J. Lowell, master, announced here.

"The grange," he stated, "believes a subsidy is wrong in principle. When a business or enterprise is subsidized, it is subsidized at the expense of others. The grange believes in a fair show and no favors. Because of this belief, the entire influence of the organization will be used to defeat the measure." Mr. Lowell has addressed a letter to state masters asking them to throw their support against passage of the bill. The order has two million members.

Dry Laws Are Openly Defied

quests an investigation of the enforcement department of the government in the letter of August 1, Busch, addressed to his associates, says in part: "I am now approaching the coast of France. As this vessel is operated by the United States shipping board, I was amazed to learn that the shipping board vessels are the 'wettest' on the ocean."

"I learn that passage on these ships has been sold with a positive money-back guarantee that the bars for the sale of intoxicating liquors will be thrown wide open as soon as they pass outside the three-mile coast line."

"This makes the United States incomparably the biggest bootlegger in the world."

"There are two reasons which I believe should impel us to bring this information to the attention of the president; the chief executive is charged with the duty of defending the constitution and taking care that the laws are faithfully executed and should be informed of the fact."

"As manufacturers of legal products, we have been forced for more than two years to meet unfair and unlawful competition in practically every town and city in the United States. For the United States to set aside its constitution and laws in the operation of its own business enterprises increases our defense many fold, because it encourages violators of the law to renew and greater activity."

"I understand that the shipping board has brought to the notice of high officials of the government the fact that it could not compete on the high seas with the ships of other nations and obey the constitution and the Volstead act. And either by direct or indirect means, the shipping board is permitted to do in the dark that which it is illegal to do—in order that it may make money."

Great Majority for Modification

"We should submit to the president that the government's toleration of the violation of the law by the shipping board is proof that prohibition laws as now written are either impractical and non-enforceable, or are being disregarded deliberately."

"The fact that citizens of the United States would not buy passage upon ships of the United States so long as the Volstead act was operative upon these ships gives us a real sentiment of a considerable part of the American people with respect to prohibition and we believe that a great majority desire a modification of the Volstead act."

Violation in Three Respects

"Because it is axiomatic that American ships wherever they float are American territory and under the jurisdiction of the laws of the United States, the government's liquor policy with respect to the ships of the United States shipping board constitutes a violation of the constitution and the Volstead act in at least three important respects:

"As American sovereignty follows the flag it is a violation of the constitution and the enforcement act for the government to sell intoxicating liquors or permit its sale on board any ship of the United States anywhere in the world."

"It is a violation of the constitution and the law for the government ships to transport intoxicating liquor within the three-mile coast line."

"We are reliably informed that the advertisement of the United States lines, published in European newspapers announcing 'choice wines and liquors' on ships of the United States."

"We are also reliably informed that during all the time that the government has been violating the prohibition laws, it has had public figures touring the country for the special purpose of preaching respect for the prohibition laws to the American people."

"We are enclosing what appears to be a government-inspired newspaper editorial making a plea for the continued violation of the prohibition laws on board United States ships. We have authoritative information the day before this editorial was published, that it was to appear the following day."

Asks Congressional Inquiry

"The government's disregard of the prohibition law and its policy of inspiring editorial support of the commission of one of its business enterprises from the operations of the law on the one hand, and its feeble attempt to enforce it and the employment of skilled orators to counsel respect for the law on the other hand appear to be the most ineffectual method of law enforcement."

"The letter of the Honorable Adolphus Busch, U. S. senator from St. Louis, under date of June 8, says in part:

"It is a violation of the constitution and the law for the government ships to transport intoxicating liquor within the three-mile coast line."

"It is a violation of the constitution and the law for the government ships to transport intoxicating liquor within the three-mile coast line."

LASKER MAKES REPLY

Ship Board Chairman Defends Sale of Liquor on Government Owned Ships

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The Shipping board holds that "neither the Volstead act nor the 18th amendment apply to American ships outside the three-mile limit," Chairman Lasker declared today in a letter to Adolphus Busch, U. S. senator from St. Louis.

Admits Liquor Sold

Confirming reports that alcoholic drinks were being served on American ships at sea, Mr. Lasker asserted that the Shipping board had approved this custom "both from the standpoint of legal right and from the standpoint of the life and security of our national merchant marine."

The Shipping board has permitted and will continue to permit the serving of liquor on its ships," he wrote, "so long as foreign flag ships are allowed to enter and depart from our shores exercising that privilege."

Mr. Lasker's letter was in reply to a communication addressed by Mr. Busch to President Harding with reference to alcoholic drinks being regularly served on Shipping board vessels at sea. The matter had been referred to him, the Shipping board chairman explained, since "the president is unacquainted with the subject you cover."

Wine Lists Regular Equipment

While it was true, Mr. Lasker said, that an assistant attorney general, in the prior administration, had held that the prohibition laws were effective on American shipping wherever operated, the present general counsel of the Shipping board, his two assistants and the chairman himself were convinced that such an opinion was not soundly based and had approved the inclusion of wine lists as regular equipment of boats operated under the board's supervision, for use, however, only beyond the jurisdictional coastal line.

"I do not believe I speak inadvisably," Mr. Lasker said, "when I state that no long as foreign ships can enter American waters, the lack of that privilege might be the very determining factor in the life or death of the American merchant marine, and that so long as foreign ships are allowed the privilege of entering and departing from American ports, serving liquor, that same privilege must be allowed our merchant ships."

"If the sale of liquor be prohibited on all boats entering or departing from American ports there is no voice in the Shipping board that would be raised in protest."

Denies "Inspiring" Editorial

Mr. Busch attached to his letter to the president the copy of an editorial printed in the Chicago Tribune of May 8, 1922, "following a visit to the editorial offices by an official of the United States Shipping board."

Declaring there was an insinuation that the editorial had been "inspired by that visit," Mr. Lasker said:

"I was the official who visited the Tribune on May 5th, and I wish to record my emphatic denial that I in any way knew before or at the time of my visit the views of the editors of the Tribune on the subject of prohibition not discuss the subject of prohibition with the editors of the Tribune at that visit or at any other time before or since. The fact is that I had no more advanced knowledge than any other reader of the Tribune that it was going to publish such an editorial."

"Mean Insinuation"

"I believe you to be thoroughly selfish and that you are acting in the hope of creating a public revolt against prohibition so that you may again revive the sale of your liquors, utterly regardless of how you might hurt the American merchant marine in your effort to create a situation to benefit your brewery."

Founder Kaiser's Closest Friend

"It is, of course, notorious that the Adolphus Busch who founded your brewery was possibly the closest friend of Kaiser in America, and that your family for many years has maintained a castle in Germany; your nation in any event will not displace your German friends whose greatest hope of a restored German merchant marine is a hurt to America's new-born merchant marine."

"I refer to these extraneous facts not in resentment, but that it may be made clear that in my opinion you do not come before the bar of public opinion with clean hands."

Mr. Lasker made public at the same time the text of an opinion just rendered to him by Elmer Schlegel, general counsel of the Shipping board upholding anew, the legality of serving of liquor on American ships at sea.

The opinion cited numerous cases to show that American ships outside the three mile limit could not be considered within the jurisdiction of the United States government.

GET DRUNK ON WATER

Volstead Act Nil on U. S. Ships—Law Violated Daily Under Federal Control

WASHINGTON, June 14.—In a speech on the floor of the house yesterday,

Congressman Gallivan of Boston read the wine list of the U. S. shipping board vessel, President Pierce, showing as he expressed it that "We may not get drunk on land, but we can get drunk on water."

"The open violation of the Volstead act on the ships of the United States shipping board makes one thing plain," said Mr. Gallivan, "when he reads so much about law and order, now that the 18th amendment has been adopted. Here and now I desire to call attention to and emphasize the barefaced hypocrisy of a government appropriating money to enforce this bastard child of prohibition and at the same time appropriating more money to advertise the violation of its own laws on its own ships the minute they get outside the three-mile limit."

"Something, close to a million dollars was appropriated for advertising," Mr. Gallivan, "when he reads so much about law and order, now that the 18th amendment has been adopted. Here and now I desire to call attention to and emphasize the barefaced hypocrisy of a government appropriating money to enforce this bastard child of prohibition and at the same time appropriating more money to advertise the violation of its own laws on its own ships the minute they get outside the three-mile limit."

"Black and White, Johnny Walker, Haig and Haig, right there off the bar at 25 cents a drink, and in the bottle, too, oh boy," he shouted.

In serious vein, the Gallivan speech was one of the most brilliant and forceful attacks made upon the Volstead act since it was adopted, and it met with a degree of applause which must have proved alarming to Wayne B. Wheeler, head of the anti-saloon forces accepted a seat in the gallery.

list, extolling the virtues of the various liquors.

"I hold in my hand the wine list of one of Mr. Lasker's sailing delights. It was formerly known as the steamship Peninsula State and now bears the name of one of our former presidents—President Pierce. It is one of the most prominent transatlantic ships of the United States lines. When I read its resplendent and at times exasperating details it is not with any intention of giving pain or sorrow to those members of congress who voted for the Volstead law. Rather it is to let congress and the country know how on American territory, under federal appropriations, the law is violated daily."

Swinging his arms, Mr. Gallivan had the house in a whirl of laughter as he ran through the wine list, interjecting sharp comments after reading the price of old-time drinks.

"Black and White, Johnny Walker, Haig and Haig, right there off the bar at 25 cents a drink, and in the bottle, too, oh boy," he shouted.

In serious vein, the Gallivan speech was one of the most brilliant and forceful attacks made upon the Volstead act since it was adopted, and it met with a degree of applause which must have proved alarming to Wayne B. Wheeler, head of the anti-saloon forces accepted a seat in the gallery.

Leaders of Pro-Treaty Party Confident

DUBLIN, June 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Leaders of the pro-treaty party manifest increasing confidence in the outcome of Friday's parliamentary elections and predict some surprises for the anti-treaty, claiming among other things that Erskine Childers and Mary MacSwiney are certain to lose their seats. Many complaints are being circulated of intimidation in districts where independent candidates are standing for election.

TRAPPED BY EXPLOSION

House Occupied by Pawtucket Mill Workers Blown Up—All Rescued

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 14.—Police are trying to locate three men who were seen early today near a tenement house in Water street, where fire broke out and trapped a number of occupants, including three employees of the Jencks Spinning Co., one of the concerns affected by the textile strike. These employees said they had previously received threatening letters in which they were warned to give up work at the mill. Joseph Laroc, the owner of the house, says the fire was preceded by an explosion and that the entrance to the building was covered with gasoline and kerosene. After the fire, two empty cans smelling of oil and gasoline were found under a stairway. Police and firemen rescued several of the occupants and the blaze was extinguished before much damage was done.

Notre Dame Academy

In addressing the graduates, Rev. Fr. Heagney told of the value of an education obtained in a Catholic school, dedicated to the honor and glory of God, where everything begins and ends with an invocation to God and his Divine Mother. He said the students throughout their course of study have been instructed in everything worthy of womanhood, sheltered from a passionate world and their characters wrought in peace and quiet. He offered the graduates his sincere congratulations on their good fortune in completing their course in such an environment.

Fr. Heagney urged that the world today needs character more than any other attribute. The convent sends out students equipped splendidly for the glory of God, as the Sisters of Notre Dame give them the best of educational instructions and bring out the noblest traits of character. He hoped that their souls would be kept in readiness to answer God's call.

The mass was followed by the presentation of diplomas by Monsignor O'Brien, and the congregation scattered to many parts of the academy, many to inspect the splendid display of student work on the floor above. There, in a large room, are exhibits of china painting, portraiture, drawings, water color and charcoal sketches, tapestries beautifully embroidered and a legion of other articles adorned by the students of the institution. The Sisters of Notre Dame were everywhere about, eager to call attention to the work of their beloved pupils.

The program follows: Solemn high mass, celebrant, Rev. Francis L. Keenan; Rev. Joseph A. Curran, deacon, Rev. Joseph Keenan, sub-deacon. Master of ceremonies, Rev. Michael C. Gilbride. Address, Rev. Thomas J. Heagney. Conferment of diplomas, The Right Rev. W. O'Brien, I.P.P. GRADUATION HONORS

BEFORE BABY COMES

Watchful Care of Health Necessary

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Marvelous Help

West Orange, N. J.—"I was very nervous and upset for six months before my baby was born. One of my friends told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken it for five months now. I have a big boy who weighed almost nine pounds at birth and I do all my housework and don't feel a bit nervous or upset any more. I still take your medicine and have told all my friends what good it has done me."—Mrs. MARGARET GREGORY, 40 Valley Road, West Orange, N. J.

West New York, N. J.—"The first two months I carried my baby I was in bed almost every day with sick headaches. I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the first bottle helped me. I took seven more and I know I couldn't feel better than I did. The headaches stopped and I was able to do my own work. I have a baby girl six months old who weighs twenty pounds and is the picture of health."—Mrs. J. McCoy, 207 20th St., West New York, N. J.

Nervous and Run-Down
Biloxi, Miss.—"Just a word of praise for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it with wonderful results before my baby was born. I was so nervous and run-down that I was a wreck of misery. I had pains in my sides and back so bad that I could not stay still or sleep nights. My husband was reading your 'ad.' in the paper and I decided to try your Vegetable Compound. After I had taken half a bottle I felt a change and was soon as well as ever. I took it the whole time and recommend it to every woman who is suffering as I was. People said that because I was so young I would never pull through and I praise your Vegetable Compound for my good health."—Mrs. Enoch J. Stevens, 880 Fayard St., Biloxi, Miss.

Chicago, Ill.—"I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for all prospective mothers. I suffered from weakness and faint spells and had to lie down twice a day for an hour or so before I could go on with my work. My cousin, who lives in Wisconsin, has used your Vegetable Compound for over five years and she came to us for a visit and she recommended it to me, saying she would pay for the bottle if it did not help me. I took that bottle and got more, as I found it gave me great relief. I recommend it to my friends and sisters and am willing for you to use these facts to help others."—Mrs. L. J. Kobinski, 1813 W. 17th St., Chicago, Illinois.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken by expectant mothers. It will assist them in keeping well and strong. This is necessary not only for their own comfort but for the future as well. It helped these women. It has helped many others.

IN PRAYER FOR IRISH SOLDIER DEAD

The Pro-Cathedral at Dublin was so crowded that many members of the Irish republican army knelt in prayer outside the church at the services held upon the first anniversary of the burning of the Dublin customs house when many of the I. R. A. lost their lives.

MEETING OF CLAIMS COMMITTEE

The city council committee on claims, meeting last night with the city solicitor, voted to recommend leave to withdraw in 26 cases covered by petitions seeking compensation from the city for alleged damages. On a number of other claims it was voted to either settle on a fair basis or investigate further.

Present at the meeting were Chairman Smith J. Adams, Councilors Stearns, McLenahan and Cameron, Solicitor Tierney, Alder, Alexander Duncan and Edward P. Mulry.

Most of the petitioners who were given leave to withdraw presented claims involving injuries sustained by falls on icy sidewalks. The city solicitor expressed the opinion that as the sidewalks show no defects the city is not liable and therefore he recommended dismissal in the following cases: Annie Allen, Lorenzo A. Ayer, Walter C. Bruce, Lewis C. Clark, Aldis Bechard, F. L. Brown, Arthur J. Bonnard, Patrick Bowler, Mary J. Breen, Lucy S. Barker, Mrs. Catherine Connors, Thomas J. Guerdon, Eliza A. Davis, Henrietta Davis, Mary J. Donnelly, Margaret Gallagher, Julia Clifford, Mrs. Mae Houle, Jean Laundry Co., Arthur Lavoie, George W. Morrison, Maud E. Morey, Catherine O'Connor, Annie J. Scott, Charles Simpson, Davis Solomon, Nellie Sullivan, Mary Turpey, Empiro Trucking Co., Irving Whitcomb, John Chessier, Frank W. Foye, Eliza Goodwin, Winfred Joyce, Michael Klrane and Ida Spayd.

WANT MONEY TO REPAIR SCHOOLS

The council committee on public properties and works, Councilor Edward M. Appleton, chairman, met late yesterday afternoon to discuss ways and means of securing sufficient money to make necessary repairs on a number of school buildings and the police station. Estimates already presented place the cost of this work at $26,000. It was decided to refer the matter to the city solicitor and city auditor to draw up an order in proper form for consideration by the committee at a meeting to be held just prior to the council meeting Thursday night.

Engineers Study Distortion To Gain Perfect Resonance in Radio

BY PAUL F. GODLEY
America's Foremost Radio Authority
Will music lovers ever be able to depend on radio for real music?
The answer depends chiefly on two things:
First, the improvement of transmitting apparatus so that true tone qualities can be delivered to the antenna.
Second, the perfection of receiving equipment.
In view of the progress made along

CURVES OF PROPERLY AND IMPROPERLY DESIGNED AMPLIFYING TRANSFORMERS, SHOWING DISTORTION OF SOUNDS

these lines during the past few months, it is expected that the tone of the music wafted through the air soon will be greatly improved.
That the fundamental law of resonance, upon which all our radio work is so dependent, is the thing which has acted as a stumbling block in the path of the radio engineers. Resonance puts in its appearance in many unlooked for places, and produces many undesirable and often unexplainable phenomena. Changes in the design of the equipment, both of a mechanical and electrical nature, have to be made many times before a design without false resonance is perfected.

Overcoming Difficulties

These difficulties will have been surmounted in the broadcasting stations long before they will have been overcome in the stations of the thousands of listening amateurs. Each broadcasting station is being concentrated on by one or more trained engineers, while the majority of the receiving stations will, for some time to come, be equipped with radio apparatus, either built by the amateur himself, or purchased from concerns who have not made it a point to design the equipment as to take care of these distortions.

This has been particularly true of loud-speaking receivers, and amplifiers used to give the power for driving these loud speakers. Distortion occurs in the amplifier vacuum tubes, in the transformer, and in the reproducing magnetic receiver and its horn. Most of this distortion is a result of attempts to use equipment not designed to carry the necessary energies. Some of it is the result of false resonance within the transformers or reproducing magnetic telephones.

RADIO PRIMER

Lightning Arresters—A protective device installed on the outside of the house, in the aerial circuit, to keep the high-powered lightning electricity from entering the radio set. This device is made with a vacuum gap and acts somewhat like a fuse in an ordinary electric circuit.

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE ALUMNI

At a meeting of the members of the executive board and the senate of St. Joseph's college alumni held last evening in the college hall in Merrimack street with President Joseph F. Montminy in the chair, plans for the annual outing which will be held on Thursday, Aug. 10, were discussed and committees were appointed to make all arrangements for the event, which always proves a source of enjoyment for all who attend.

The grounds for the outing have not yet been selected as the matter was left entirely in the hands of the grounds committee. It is believed, however, that an endeavor will be made to secure the grounds of the Genoa club in Tyngsboro, where the event has been conducted for the past few years. The committees appointed are as follows: Grounds and transportation—Arthur Gaudette, chairman; Arthur H. Giroux and John B. Richards, sports—Arthur H. Giroux, chairman; Victor Alexander and Louis Parent, prizes—George Marchand, chairman; Theodore Blonnet, Louis Parent, Leonce Glonet and J. B. Blasonette, badges—Adelard Lequin, chairman; Arthur Simard, Napoleon Milot and J. Renard, tickets—Emile Lemire.

In the course of the meeting several questions of importance were discussed and a motion to amend the laws of the organization was presented. This calls for making the retiring president, dean of the alumni with the same privileges as the members of the executive board, and it will be acted upon at the general meeting to be held July 20.

The executive board of the alumni is composed of the following: Joseph F. Montminy, president; Adelard Lequin, vice president; Arthur H. Giroux, financial secretary; Joseph Bergeron, recording secretary; Victor Alexander, corresponding secretary; Emile Lequin, treasurer; George Marchand, Louis Parent, Leonce Glonet, J. B. Blasonette and Frank Cayer, directors.

Postal Inspectors Seek Missing Clerk

BOSTON, June 14.—Postoffice inspectors were searching today for Thomas F. Murray, a clerk in charge of the money order division at the North Postal station, who disappeared last Thursday shortly after auditors took his books for examination. Postoffice authorities say that Murray went out for luncheon shortly after the auditors arrived, and did not return. Later the auditors reported that a shortage had been discovered in the accounts of the money order division. Murray is being sought for an explanation of the alleged discrepancy.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND
"At the Stage Door," with Lillian "Billie" Dove starring, and Herbert Rawlinson in "The Scrapper," a great story about a young Irish engineer, are winning unqualified approbation by patrons of The Strand. Both are unusual pictures and worth seeing for the many good things that are being said of them. They will be shown for the last time today. "Iron to Gold," the new Dustin Farnum picture, is a story written by George Owen Baxter, and is described as a "western minus a ranch." They will be shown for the last time today. "Iron to Gold," the new Dustin Farnum picture, is a story written by George Owen Baxter, and is described as a "western minus a ranch." The scenes are laid in a small mining town and the surrounding hills. The central figures are an outlaw—justly stamped as a criminal—and a girl whose faith in the former is fully justified in various sensational incidents. A story of crime, cowardice and cupidity develops and is brought to an interesting and satisfactory ending, with the principals getting justice only after a long and hard struggle. Farnum receives the support of an excellent cast.

SHIRLEY MASON'S PICTURE, "JACKIE"
A delightfully interesting story of an English wife who sings herself into upper social circles and wins favor and fortune from one of its leaders.

"QUEEN OF SHEBA" COMING
The dancers who contribute so much nerve and pep in the big Fox production, "Queen of Sheba," coming to the Merrimack Square theatre Sunday for a four days' engagement, constitute one of the most important details of the massive production. They are all professional experts, chosen from the ranks of the greatest dancers of the day.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Final performances will be given this evening at the Merrimack Square theatre of "Across the Continent" starring Wallace Reid, and "The Ordinal" with Agnes Ayres in the leading role. There will be the usual mid-week change of program Thursday.

"The features for Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be "Sisters," a big dramatic production starring Seena Owen and Matt Moore, and "Midnight," a comedy and the International News will complete the bill.
It has been some time since such an exceptionally talented cast has been selected for a single production as that assembled in "Sisters." Miss Owen and Mr. Moore have long held sway on the screen as leaders in the art of dramatic interpretation, and Gladys Leslie, who supports them, is fast becoming a star in her own right.

"Sisters" has been adapted from Kathleen Norris' wonderful story that thrilled thousands and sold in all parts of the country a short time ago. It has all the pathos of "The Sheik" and all the charm of "The Sign of the Cross."
Constance Binney, dainty little star of two short years, is rapidly graduating from mere pretty girl roles into strong emotional acting. She has proved her ability to handle difficult roles by her splendid work in "The Case of Becky" and "First Love," two recent pictures.

Now who is announced to appear as the star of "Midnight," a play by Harvey Thew, in which she has the role of a girl who committed the folly of marrying a worthless adventurer, who disappeared the same day under circumstances which point to his murder.
How the spectre of this girl's folly rises up to haunt the girl when, a few years later, a real love comes into her life, makes a strong dramatic picture. Miss Binney with a magnificent role.

MISS BENTLEY HONORED
A very pretty miscellaneous shower took place at the home of Miss Irene Bentley Monday evening when about 25 of her friends called and showered her with gifts, congratulations and best wishes for a bright and happy future. Although somewhat taken by surprise, Miss Bentley responded in a very pleasing manner and thanked her many friends for their thoughtfulness and kindness. The house was artistically decorated with pink and white roses and ferns. One of the best features of the evening was a mock marriage in which the following took part: Mrs. Dorothy Currier as bride, Miss Lucie Gendreau as groom, Miss Cecilia Gendreau as bridesmaid, Miss Minnie Hague, best man, Miss Marietta Gendreau, minister. The ceremony of the mock marriage caused much fun, and they were loudly applauded. Mrs. Marcotte gave very pleasing vocal selections. Mrs. Heald Gendreau Arbuthnot was also heard in delightful vocal numbers. Mrs. Todd favored with piano selections. Games were played and favors were given. Refreshments were served and the party broke up showering Miss Bentley with good wishes. Miss Bentley in the near future will become the bride of Dr. William Bentley, a popular young physician of Boston.

Mrs. Minnie Hague and Miss Charlotte Casagrove were responsible for the affair, while everyone present helped make it such a success. Mrs. Archambault and Miss B. Brown were the accompanists of the evening.

EMBROIDERY
Dresses completely covered with embroidery are greatly sought after now. Embroidery is more expensive than beads, but it takes less time for upkeep. Beaded frocks require attention after each wearing.

SAN SALVADOR, Republic of Salvador, June 14. COMING SUNDAY—"THE QUEEN OF SHEBA"

COULDN'T RAISE HER ARMS TO COMB HER HAIR

Boston Woman Hasn't a Trace of Rheumatism Left Since Taking Tanlac and Says She Never Felt Better in Life

"I feel perfectly splendid now, not a complaint in the world, and I just wish I could tell everybody in New England what a great medicine Tanlac is," said Mrs. Mary L. Swan, a highly respected resident of 63, Kendall st., Boston, Mass.

"For two years not a day passed that I didn't suffer from rheumatism. The pains in my arms and shoulders were so bad I couldn't raise my hands to comb my hair, and I suffered so much I thought sure I would go distracted. About a year ago the rheumatism went into my limbs and hips, and I got so bad off I could hardly walk. I had spells when the agony was so great it just took all my strength, and one day I fell right in a heap as I was leaving the kitchen, and had to scream and call some of my neighbors to my assistance. I was so afraid of having one of these attacks on the streets that every time I left the house I had a feeling that they would bring me home in an ambulance. I was very nervous, and although I spent a small fortune trying to get relief, it was all in vain. I got worse.

"Well, the Tanlac testimonials appealed to me so much that I decided to try the medicine, and it was simply surprising how it began to help me. I have taken three bottles now, and those pains are completely gone from my arms and shoulders and I can comb my hair and dress myself with ease. I can walk for hours now and never feel a touch of pain. The fact is, I never felt better in my life than I do now, and my advice to anyone suffering from rheumatism is to take Tanlac by all means." Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Adv.

BIRTHDAY OF THE FLAG

RESOLVED, That the Flag of the United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the Union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field representing a new constellation. Adopted by the Continental Congress, June 14, 1777.

This is the Flag day, the 145th anniversary of the adoption of the American flag by the Continental Congress. This observance is one in which all can participate without reservation in honoring the flag, the emblem of freedom representing the greatest, the grandest, the freest nation on earth.

That flag was first raised when the revolutionary fathers won the independence of the colonies and established this republic. Beneath its folds the patriots were proud to fight and to die in the glorious cause of freedom; and since by the sacrifice of many precious lives, freedom was established on these shores never to be dislodged, the generations that have followed have ever shown heroic patriotism in their readiness to die, if necessary, in their defense of the flag and all it represents.

In every war in which the security of the liberties of this nation were threatened, millions of brave men have come to the front ready as were the founders to give their lives for the flag in order that the liberty which it represents shall live on forever. So it was in the War of 1812, so in the Civil war, so in the Spanish-American war and so in the World war—always millions of brave men ready to sacrifice their lives for the flag, the free.

What does this mean but that from age to age the flag will always have true defenders who will proudly die beneath its folds to perpetuate the constitution and the freedom its represents.

"Romanus Sum" was the boast of every Roman citizen and so every American may well boast of his American citizenship, which means the enjoyment of the most complete system of human freedom that exists upon the earth and which in turn demands the tribute of loyalty to the flag and all it represents—civil and religious liberty in a union of states one and inseparable.

Well may our school children be taught to respect and reverence the flag and above all to learn what it represents and what it means to every citizen. Under the Stars and Stripes the oppressed of every land have found a refuge and a home; and surely none have a better right to revere and honor the glorious flag than those to whom it means redemption from the various types of tyranny and oppression that are found even to this day in Europe and Asia.

Even in the far-off regions of Russia the flag waves above the relief-stations bringing help and succor to the starving millions. In the war-torn nations, the people remember that it was the American flag with our brave soldiers behind it that turned the tide of battle and saved them from German sway; and hence not only in our own land, but wherever a friend of freedom and humanity exists on this broad earth, is our flag revered and honored as the foremost beacon light of human liberty, sending forth the inspiration of hope and the love of liberty to people struggling in chains and thus secured on in their determination to cast off their shackles and assert their inalienable right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

THE BOY PROBLEM

Soon the graduates will be let loose from school and soon anxious parents will be trying to decide what is best to do for "Johnny" or "Tommy"; whether to let him go back to school or to college or terminate his school course and have him go to work. On the principle that every boy needs all the education he can get, it is well to give each and all as much education as possible. But at the same time it is important to have the schooling directed toward some particular goal.

As a rule, unless an occupation is chosen before the end of the school course, much time is lost by the graduates in trying to select a calling that will be pleasing to their tastes. Happy the parents whose boy is so firmly set on some worthy calling that, with concentration and perseverance in it, his success is assured. The boys who bother their parents are those whose aptitudes or ambitions are not sufficiently marked to indicate a bent for anything in particular. Such boys flounder about for years before finding their proper place in the industrial environment.

By some it is held that a boy should be left free to choose what he prefers. That is not a safe plan for the reason that nearly every boy will prefer the easy road, although it may lead to a swamp or end "nowhere," whereas the road that may be most difficult to travel in the beginning may lead to the goal of success. In a great many cases, therefore, it is necessary to guide and direct the boy toward some desirable goal.

In many cases it is preferable to send a grammar school graduate to learn a trade than to send him to high school. That is usually the case with boys who do not care to study. If a boy does not lay his mind to study, it is useless to keep him at school. What he needs is hard work and plenty of it; but he should not be kept working in a cul-de-sac or a blind alley, so to speak, where there is no way open for advancement. Neither should he be allowed to work where the conditions are unfavorable to his health. It is important that he should learn some specialty so well that he will have few competitors. That is the only kind of man who can hold a job where competition is active. Moreover, the man who specializes can earn more than the one who jogs a smattering of a great many things. The boy problem is easy or difficult as the boy is obedient, intelligent and willing to do his best, or stubborn, shiftless and lazy.

For the average boy nothing can compensate for the lack of obedience. The stubborn boy who spurns the advice of his parents and seniors is like the intractable colt that runs away and gets smashed up. There is an age at which boys believe that they know about everything that is worth knowing. This usually lasts for a few years and then it gradually gives place to a more sensible state of mind in which there comes a realization that it is only by taking counsel with one another that we can make progress, and that not even the learned can afford to despise good counsel based on the teachings of experience.

NEW BATCH OF LAWS

Perhaps the most notable feature in the record of the legislature is the legislation making the state laws bearing on the liquor question conform to the provisions of the Volstead law. The state could not overrule the Volstead law; but prior to this act of the legislature, it had not put itself strictly in accord with the federal government on the 18th amendment.

As a result of the scandalous financialing which resulted in the closing of several Boston banks, the legislature has enacted measures dealing more rigorously than formerly with anything in the nature of fraud, conviction or neglect by which the interests of a bank or its depositors may be injuriously affected. Under the present statutes any employee of a bank who misapplies funds or who is guilty of fraud or larceny from a bank, may be punished by a fine of $2000 or by imprisonment for not more than two and a half years. Any person who willfully aids in such acts may be fined in the sum of $10,000 and imprisoned for not more than ten years. It is a peculiar feature of this law that the accessory is punished much more severely than the principal.

Another act which originated with Rep. Ahlin of Lowell provides that the head of a family in computing his gross income shall be entitled to a deduction of $250 for each child, the former law permitting such deduction only for two children. Another measure that will be appreciated gives assessors permission to abate $3 of the $5 poll tax in the case of World war veterans who were credited to other states but now reside in Massachusetts.

The movement to adopt a five cent fare in Boston was defeated for the reason that it would shift the burden of paying a large deficit from the riders to the shoulders of the taxpayers. Mayor Curley made a big fight for a five cent fare in Boston; but the logic of facts was against him and despite his appeal, his bill was defeated.

KEEPING WELL

Dr. Sawyer, who is physician to President Harding, predicts that future doctors will be paid "for keeping people well rather than for curing them when they are sick."

That is the Chinese system. Over there, the doctor is paid so much a day as long as the patient is well. On days when the patient is sick, Doc gets no pay, which gives him an incentive to do his work thoroughly and not overlook any body.

It wouldn't work in our country, where people usually stay away from the doctor until they are afraid of making the undertaker's acquaintance. We cure, the Chinese prevent.

LENIN'S TROUBLE

Leading German doctors grab their pill bottles and rush to Lenin, who is bothered lately by acute gastritis. This means, that at some time or other Lenin has abused his stomach. A hyper-thyroid of his type usually eats too much, in the attempt to generate excessive energy.

Three-fourths of our sickness is due to what we eat. There are many health rules in this world but the best of them is this: "Find out what foods do not agree with you. Then never touch them. One man's meat is another man's poison." This is a good rule for Lenin or anybody else.

PRICES RISING

Wholesale prices advanced a trifle during May. But on June 1 you could buy at wholesale for $11.30 the same general stuff that cost $3.97 on June 1, 1913. This is shown by Bradstreet's index of wholesale prices of 36 leading necessities.

In other words, wholesale prices are 31 per cent higher than before the war.

Wholesale prices lead the way for retail prices. What is due to happen? Will retail prices drop to meet wholesale or will wholesale prices rise to meet retail? The big fortunes of the next few years will be made by the one. We cure, the Chinese prevent.

It is now alleged that the hooch that is being dispensed by bootleggers is doctored with deadly dope. It is guaranteed to kill if taken in the quantity that ordinarily might be expected to produce a mild "jag."

The textile business of New England is being seriously injured by the industrial conflicts in progress in several of the mill cities. The general public asks when or how will it all end.

The school board should hold its private conferences in the afternoon so as to be able to start its meetings at the appointed time.

Poisoned glue is put in Bibles to kill book worms; but the book worms know don't spend much time in reading the Bible.

SEEN AND HEARD

In spite of the fact that financial experts are saying business is better, it is.

In Georgia, a man was on the jury that gave his wife a divorce. That makes it unhygienic.

Boston has a "temerarious" heat wave. Any other town would have said what the weather was as hot as.

A THOUGHT

Nine things to fight required are: The power to see, the light, the visible thing, Being not too small, too thin, too high, too far, Space clear, and time, the form distinct to bring. —Sir John Davies.

Laying Down a Barrage

"Do you hear from your son at college?" "Early and often," said Mr. Graceland. "I get so many requests for money by mail, telegraph and long distance that I hesitate to listen in with my radio outfit for fear I'll hear some voice making a request." —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Modern Civilization

"What is civilization?" asks a California writer. "It's where you stand on a street corner and wait for 10 street cars, 400 automobiles, 50 motorcycles, 25 bikes, a dozen motor trucks, a few fire engines, the police patrol, a hurry up ambulance and a funeral to pass before you dare make a try for the opposite corner." —San Francisco Chronicle.

Fearing the Cold

An odd objection to leaving her native land came from an English girl who was offered a situation in New Zealand at good wages. "I should like the money," she said, "but I could never bear the cold." She was assured that the climate of New Zealand was warmer than that of her own country, but refused to believe it, "for all the frozen meat come from there."

The Next Train

There is an art in reading railway time tables. Farmer Brown knew nothing of it. "What time's the next train to X?" he asked. The station agent turned away only to return a few moments later to ask the same question. "That I've only just found out," he said. "Yes, but this time I'm asking for another fellow."

Selecting a Number

Dean Inge told us recently that he is likely to change his reputation for gloominess. He was remarking that the byways as well as the highways of church life furnish much to be expected of wit and humor. He proceeded to relate the story of a certain rector's cook. One evening they allowed her to choose the hymn for family worship. When the ceremony was over the vicar's wife turned to her. "That was a very nice hymn you chose this evening, cook."

Helping Mother

A teacher at a certain private school strives to instill filial devotion in her pupils. Recently she asked her class in which way they had been helping their parents. Various answers were given of a more or less expected nature until she reached a little girl who had been casting rather contemptuous glances at the humdrum reports. When her turn came the eyes of the others were fixed on her as she lives in an opulent home that boasts a staff of servants. "Well, Gracie," the teacher asked, "what have you been doing to help your mother?" "No, I don't," was the cheerful response of Gracie, "but mostly I go to the Country club and get cigars for her."

Today's Word

Today's word is ironic. It's pronounced—iron-ic, with accent on the second syllable. It means—characterized by a kind of humor or light sarcasm which adopts a mode of speech implying the opposite of the literal sense of the words. "It was an ironic authority," says an eminent intended to be contrary to that seemingly expressed; one says one thing and means the opposite. It is also from the Greek word "ironia," meaning "a dissimulation or concealment of real facts." It's used like this: "To the persons who were criticized for their efforts to keep down coal prices, despite the strike, Secretary of Commerce Hoover has returned an ironic answer."

A Piece of Plastic Clay

I took a piece of plastic clay. And, idly fashioned it one day. And my fingers pressed it still. It bent, and yielded to my will.

I came again when days were past. The bit of clay was hard at last. The form I gave it still it bore. But I could change that form no more.

I took a piece of living clay. And gently formed it by day. And moulded it with power and art. A young child's soft and yielding heart.

I came again when years were gone. He was a man I looked upon. The early imprint still he bore. But I could change him then no more.

SPORTS COAT

The short coat of bright red, henna or green in flannel, duvety or silk, is popular for sports wear. Usually the hat is a soft, simple model of the same material.

Also an excellent assortment of tweezers, corn razors and corn chisels.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

The high winds of Sunday and Monday, brought on by the miniature hurricane which swept New York into and certain parts of New England, must have recalled to mind Dr. Drummond's famous poem, "The Wreck of the Jule Plante." Dr. Drummond, a McGill university graduate, gained fame far and wide through this poem. It contains the lines so often quoted: "The wind she blow lak a hurricane; bimeby she blow some mo'—but you can't get down on Lak Champlain if you stay on top de shore."

The stop taken in Boston recently which will permit the awarding of medals to the police and fire department members would not be such a bad one to follow in this city. The medals will be presented, one each year, to that member of either department, who shows by his conduct that he is the bravest man. A fund has been presented to the city from which the medals will be purchased. Lowell blue-coats and smoke-eaters are as brave as any in the country and if given the chance will prove it. The only trouble with making such awards is that the men might take unnecessary chances in the desire to be publicly commended.

The warm spell of the past week caused many to dig deep into the summer bulge to rescue Panama beach suits so carefully laid away last fall. Among the many suits appearing during the latter part of the week, was one of a light creamy color, worn by a young man. He was greeted with "Ah! the kiss of spring is with us," and several other similar remarks. To add to the general fun-making the young man was offered several jobs as a painter and one or two as a blaster. He was stopped by several people who wanted to know how the weather was down south and other information regarding the doings below the Mason and Dixon line. After two days of such treatment he decided he was a little or two ahead of the local fashion and visiting a local clothing store purchased a new outfit, a little more sombre.

There is more or less of an air of mystery surrounding that beautiful bouquet of daisies which has been reposing on the desk of genial Philip Dwyer, a sergeant connected with the criminal investigation department of the local police. The daisy tribute arrived some time during the storm of Sunday and lay drooping on the "sarge's" desk until Monday morning when the janitor, who is somewhat of a lover of flowers, dug up a vase, arranged the bouquet and placed it tastily in a position where it could be admired. Gazing on the equipment visitor to the inspector's department said to Sgt. Dwyer: "Them's beautiful flowers, sergeant." The reply came back, "Yeh, them's beautiful, sure enough." The inspector is known to be a great lover of flowers and his friends are evidently aware of the fact.

GEORGE W. ALDRIDGE DIES ON GOLF LINKS

NEW YORK, June 14.—The body of George W. Aldridge, collector of the port of New York, who died yesterday on the golf links at Rye was taken to the Aldridge home in Rochester, N. Y., today.

The veteran republican leader had driven out to the Westchester-Biltmore Country club with Charles D. Lillies, republican national committeeman from New York; Ralph A. Day, state prohibition director and George Sweeney.

The foursome was at the ninth hole. Mr. Aldridge had driven off and was following his ball when the others in the party saw his caddy waving his arms. They ran up and found Mr. Aldridge unconscious.

Death was due to embolism of an artery of the heart.

SALE OF FIREWORKS

To date 112 permits for the sale of fireworks during the Fourth of July period have been issued by Chief Edward P. Saunders of the fire department. With this permit, the holder is entitled to store or sell fireworks during the period between June 10 and July 10.

For a bride, whose honeymoon trip will take her to Europe, an appropriate gift is a steamer pillow, conveniently packed in a leather bag.

UNVEIL MONUMENT TO FRANCIS SCOTT KEY

BALTIMORE, June 14.—A monument to Francis Scott Key, erected by congress near the spot in Fort McHenry, over which floated "The Star Spangled Banner," was to be unveiled today. President Harding, motoring from Washington for the day, was to accept the memorial for the nation. The exercises were to begin at 4 o'clock, but the president was expected to reach Fort McHenry before that time so that he might visit the sick and disabled soldiers at the Public Health Service hospital.

Amplifiers were established to carry the president's words to all parts of the city and through the broadcasting station of the Baltimore American to the borders of Virginia, West Virginia, Delaware and Pennsylvania.

It has been announced that the president and Mrs. Harding will be the guests of Senator and Mrs. Joseph Edwin France at dinner before starting on their return to Washington.

The Key Memorial, designed by Charles H. Niehaus of New York, commands a sweeping view of the Patuxent river, and the harbor. The colossal bronze figure that tops the memorial is that of a Greek youth, symbolizing "The Spirit of Music."

TO CALL MORE WITNESSES AT WILBURN TRIAL

CHARLESTOWN, W. Va., June 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Counsel for both sides in the case of the Rev. J. W. Wilburn, indicted in connection with the killing of a Logan deputy sheriff, during the labor disturbances in Logan and Boone counties last year, today were considering the advisability of summoning witnesses.

The ruling of Judge Woods that the admission of evidence during the entire time of the trouble would be permitted was the occasion for their consideration, as it was understood that only witnesses were who could testify as to the actual case in hand.

This case involves the killing of Deputy John Gore and two others at Blair Gap in Logan by a party of men, who, according to testimony, were under the leadership of the defendant. Prospects were that the trial would take much more time than anticipated which was estimated at between 10 days and two weeks at first.

CONFESSED CAUSING BIG HALIFAX EXPLOSION

SEATTLE, Wash., June 14.—Canadian and United States authorities are investigating the alleged confession of William Johnson, alias N. S. Primatchek, that he caused the explosion of the three British ammunition ships in the harbor of Halifax, N. S., in 1917, resulting in many deaths and great destruction, it became known today.

Johnson committed suicide in a hotel spot in Skagit county last month. The alleged confession, federal agents said, was made to J. R. Cox, a mine watchman, a few weeks before Johnson killed himself.

It was established that Johnson, a graduate of a European university, and an expert chemist, was in Halifax at the time of the explosion, according to officers. A quantity of alleged radical literature was found in his effects, after his death.

FIREWORKS DISPLAY FOR JULY FOURTH

The contract for supplying this year's Fourth of July display of fireworks has been awarded to the Antoneff Fireworks Co. of Rochester, N. Y., for $1200. Two hundred salutes will be fired during the day and there will be two dozen assorted daytime bombs, including 16 American flags and designs of George Washington, Uncle Sam, Mayor George H. Brown, Abraham Lincoln, picture of a camel, four snakes, the Goddess of Liberty, the Memorial Auditorium, St. Anne's church, the Ladd and Whitney monument and other local edifices.

The evening display will include special set pieces—one being a 200-foot reproduction of Niagara falls.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem INSPIRATIONS

The poet said, "I will make a song,
To stir the souls of the surging throng,
To thrill each heart
With its magic art.
Till the world shall chant my name!"
And the song he made was a splendid thing,
With a mighty sweep and a glorious swing,
But the World said, "Yes,
It is fine, we guess—
Say, how was the baseball game?"

But the poet didn't especially care
For he had met with a maiden fair,
And he wrote, one day,
Just a simple lay
To say that he held her dear;
And the World said, "Gee, that's a pretty thing
With a joyous lilt and a tender ring!"
And that song was sung
By the old and young
And it echoed around the sphere!

Germany to Make Payment Tomorrow

PARTS, June 14. (By the Associated Press.)—The German government notified the reparations commission today, that it would pay the regular monthly installment of 50,000,000 gold marks tomorrow, the date fixed for this payment. The commission is now awaiting word from Germany as to what measures she intends taking to carry out the provisions of the commission's ultimatum expiring May 31, now that the international loan has failed to materialize.

CAN YOU IDENTIFY YOUR CAR?

Could you recognize your own car, if it were stolen?

Before answering with a positive "yes," remember this:

The professional auto thief covers up all possible traces of identification. He repaints the car, changes the serial numbers on the engine and chassis, scratches out all other tell-tale marks to make an absolute run, and in fact rebuilds the entire machine.

What chance is there for the motorist whose car has been stolen, to identify it? Little, say police and insurance men. They back up their claim by filing instances wherein several cars were brought to headquarters, to identify their cars, picked the same automobile as their own.

Slight Rebuild

Slight imperfections in certain cars are not certain means of identification. The experienced crook takes his stolen cars to what is practically a rebuilding factory, alters the entire mechanism and changes parts with similar parts of other cars of the same make. Practically a new car is turned out.

Most practical means of identifying your car, according to those who have had this problem, is left to the owner's own ingenuity. Individual marks stamped on various parts of the chassis and engine afford the surest way of identifying your car after it has been stolen.

Individual Marks

Punch your initials on the flywheel, the inside of the axles, and other spots not readily discernible. Then rub them with grease, so they will not be seen easily.

Or, at a set place measured off from permanent mark, punch a hole. Fill it with lead and smear the spot well with grease. Location of this mark, if the car has been recovered after theft, could be certain proof of ownership.

INCREASED VALUE IN THE DODGE

The new Dodge Brothers' models have arrived at the Lowell Motor Mart and they have lived up to expectations entertained by the local agents. It is even to the casual observer, as a company has added more value for a money spent than it was possible to anticipate in view of the fact that the old models there was more transportation purchased dollar for dollar than could be found in any other automobile built to sell at much higher prices.

In short the Dodge with these new features is as near perfection in every way as it is humanly possible to make an automobile.

THREE CARLOADS OF TRUCKS

The Church Street Motor Co. received yesterday afternoon a large consignment of International Trucks in all sizes and they are now on exhibition in its showrooms on Church street.

This should be welcome news to anyone interested in automobile transportation as there is sufficient variety of models to be able to solve anybody's problem, no matter how large or small the volume of trucking.

Four Out of Five Ford Cars and Trucks Sold Since 1905 Still in Operation

The six millionth Model T Ford Motor was produced May 18th, in the Ford factory at Detroit. In other words, from the time back in 1905 when the Ford Motor Co. began marketing the now famous Model T car until May 18, 1922, a total of six million Ford cars and trucks have been produced. Out of this total 6,517,956 were delivered to purchasers in the United States alone, and according to the latest statistics, 4,478,245 of these Ford cars and trucks are still in daily service.

Thus, it will be seen that out of every five Ford cars and trucks sold to retail purchasers in the United States alone during the past 17 years, four are still in actual daily use, which is really remarkable when the hard service of commercial cars is taken into consideration. This seems to forcibly confirm the popular knowledge of the longevity of Ford cars.

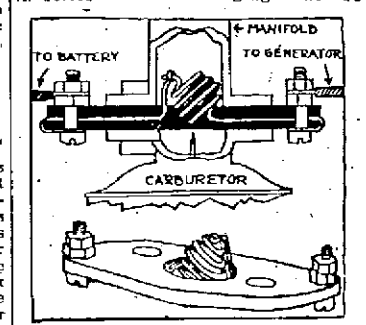

That Ford products have been quite evenly distributed throughout the United States is borne out by the fact that through the sparsely settled communities in the west to the densely populated cities in the east, practically the same ratio of Ford cars and trucks to population exists.

Ohio leads with a total of 290,769 Ford cars and trucks in daily use; Illinois comes second; Pennsylvania third; Texas fourth; and Michigan fifth, with a total of 234,081. New York, Iowa and California follow in the order named, each having more than 200,000.

An idea of the important part played by Ford cars and trucks in the daily transportation of goods and persons in the United States can be gained by realization of the fact that with the Ford cars now in operation, averaging a minimum of 60 miles per year each, they would pile up a total of twenty-five billion transportation miles—equivalent to more than a million trips around the world.

ELECTRIC GAS SAVER

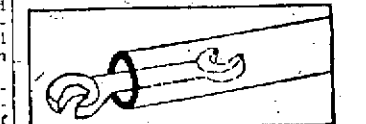

Surplus current from the generator can be made to save gasoline. A coil of special alloy is placed between the manifold and carburetor and connected in series with the charging line between the battery and generator.

Between the battery and generator, Generator current keeps the coil red hot so that all gasoline from the carburetor is sure to be converted to a gaseous state.

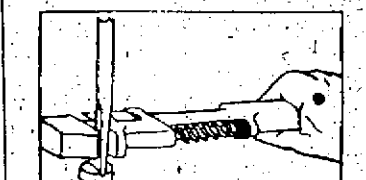

PIPE ADDS LEVERAGE

If you find it hard to loosen a nut with a small wrench, you may add leverage and power by fitting an iron pipe over the free end of the wrench.

KEEP WRENCH HANDY

Appeal to the monkey wrench for aid when another tool can't do its work alone. For instance, if a screw is too stubborn against the efforts of the screw driver, let the monkey wrench help loosen the screw. The additional leverage is almost sure to break down the resistance offered.

COVER FOR BATTERY

A sheet steel cover is being marketed for use on storage batteries. It is said to keep the battery acid-proof and insulated against short circuits. The cover fits over the sides, where ventilation is afforded.

JACK REMOVES HUB CAP

An easy way to unscrew the most stubborn hub cap is by use of a Jack.

Place the wrench over the cap at an angle a little below horizontal and set the Jack under the far end. When the Jack is pumped up the cap will yield.

STANDARDIZED

Cabriolet—Automobile with body similar to the brougham and landaulet, except that the tonneau is longer than that of the landaulet. The top is fully collapsible and may extend forward to the windshield. The partition behind the driver's seat is also collapsible.

EXPERT REPAIR MEN

Garvie & Nicolson of Lakeview avenue are both old Rolls-Royce men and are without doubt two of the most experienced automobile mechanics in this section. Anyone in need of repairs or parts should get in touch with these men and make certain of results that will be profitable.

ALL DAY PICNIC AT SILVER LAKE

Following yesterday's public presentation of "A Masque of Conservation," by Constance d'Arcy Mackay, at which about 200 visitors were present, the graduating class of the Lowell Normal school resumed its commencement week activities today with an all-day picnic at Silver Lake. The trip was made by automobile and trolley, and the 100 or more young ladies started out about 10 o'clock this forenoon with great expectations of a joyful day. President Mary L. McKay and other members of the class were in general charge.

Tomorrow will be class day for the seniors. A reception is to be held in the school hall, to which all the members of the junior class will be invited. Miss Inez Field Damon, the faculty member whom this year's class has chosen as an honorary member, will also be present. Miss Damon is the well known director of music at the school, and eight of her class for music supervisors are among the graduates.

After the indoor reception the class members, with their president officiating for the body, will plant ivy before the school in commemoration of the happy days of their training and comradeship within its walls.

A total of 130 young women will receive their diplomas at exercises to be conducted at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, with Phyllis Smith, LL.D., commissioner of education, speaking, as orator of the day, on "The Teacher—A Maker of Citizens." The senior dancing party will be held in the school hall in the evening.

We would hate to be a rich man's son and have to stay in trouble nearly all the time.

Disabled Veterans Will Open Fight on Madhouses!

BY JUDGE ROBERT S. MARX
National Commander, the Disabled American Veterans of the World War
CINCINNATI, June 12.—The disabled American veterans of the world war will hold their second national convention at San Francisco, June 26 to 30. This meeting will be the greatest gathering of wounded and disabled heroes ever held in America.

At it will be laid plans for bringing real social service and relief to America's wounded and disabled veterans, to the end that not a single man who gave his most priceless possession—his health—to his country during the war shall ever suffer or want. The convention will demand immediate action to get our mentally disabled comrades out of contract asylums, like Longview, near Cincinnati, where soldiers are mixed with civilians and tubercular patients in buildings so overcrowded that more than 200 patients sleep on the floor every night. Immediate relief for men who lost their lungs in the war and are now

Hundreds of them—walking the streets of western cities in search of proper hospitalization, will be demanded.

Measures will be taken to secure adequate compensation for men who are not receiving it, and to straighten out inequalities and injustices in compensation ratings.

Extension of time for filing claims on the part of tubercular and mental cases will be urged.

Preference for disabled veterans will be demanded of the government in giving employment to men and women in positions.

The convention also will urge the expenditure of millions of dollars already appropriated for new hospitals and will vigorously condemn past delay and inefficiency in providing these hospitals.

Tetrazzini Picks Spaniard as Successor

ANGELES OTTEIN

BY ALICE ROHE
MADRID, June 13.—Angeles Ottein is the singer whom Luisa Tetrazzini says will be her successor.
The very fact that the Italian coloratura soprano has named a Spanish singer as the one destined to immortalize those famous top notes is something to think about.
And this young Spanish singer is only 25.
She lives in Madrid in a villa whose grilles open upon a flower-filled garden. And she receives you in a Moorish music room filled with antiques.
"I'm coming to America next year," she is saying in Italian. "To the Metropolitan Opera House. I have sung in South America and in Italy as well as in Spain."
"I was in America for a very few weeks last spring, but I had to hurry back for engagements here."
"Next season—ah, how I want to sing a Spanish opera in America! But we Spanish singers must always sing Italian or French operas."
"From old days the Spaniards have had natural voices. They sing without effort, truly and simply. Sing clearly, truly and simply. 'Schools' they are astonished at the naturalness of the Spanish voice. The Spanish method or lack of method may seem too—too innocent! But to us the simplicity and not artificiality is what counts."

LOMASNEY MOTION WINS

In the debate Mr. Lomasney alleged that the findings of the finance commission were evidence of graft and maladministration that warranted criminal proceedings.

ANNUAL ENTERTAINMENT

St. Patrick's Boys' School to Give Entertainment at Keith's Theatre

The fortieth annual entertainment under the auspices of St. Patrick's Boys' school is to be given in Keith's theatre this evening, and the excellent entertainment promises well for the success of the event and the benefit of the School Book fund, for which the enterprise is undertaken.

"The Harvest Storm," a domestic drama in one act, is to be presented by pupils of the class of '22, and is to be the big feature of the program. The cast of characters is a most excellent one, including the school's best dramatic talent. A synopsis of the playlet relates that Andrew Radford, a bank clerk wrongfully accused of a large theft, flees to John Garner's farm to seek his brother and ask his assistance in his escape to America. Unable to secure sufficient funds to once his brother's secret, he is in the barn. While the brother, Michael, is paying him a secret visit, John Garner's house is entered and robbed. Since Michael cannot account for his presence in the barn, suspicion is cast upon him at the investigation of the theft. He is a distressed and unscrupulous young farmer. A tense moment ensues when a search of the barn is suggested, but the timely interference of fortunate events serves to expose Darrell's schemes and strengthen the bonds of friendship between the brothers and their brother. The synopsis is the work of Henry J. Gould, '22.

In addition to the drama, a fine musical program will be given. Songs, dances and instrumental numbers will be mingled to fill out a generous entertainment for the patrons.

The musical instruction of the choir, Mr. Charles Norman Shanon; and the dramatic instructor, Mr. John J. Quinn, will be assisted by Mr. William Quinn and Mr. Francis Redding as accompanists, and the alumni orchestra.

A large program will be given to each of those who attend, containing the entire program and lists of the graduating class.

ROOFING AND ROOF RE

Three Lowell Young Men Will Receive Degrees To Be Conferred on Lowell Young Men Their A. B. Degree at Holy Cross College June 21 at the Commencement Exercises of Boston University on Monday Next

ALBERT L. BOURGEOIS

EDWARD F. SAUNDERS

VINCENT M. MARTIN

JOHN A. MCGUIRE, JR.

JOSEPH J. COUFFE

PAUL J. ANGELO

Three Lowell young men will be graduated from Holy Cross college with the degree of bachelor of arts at the annual commencement exercises on June 21. They are Albert L. Bourgeois, Vincent M. Martin and Edward J. Saunders. The first named will be graduated "magna cum laude," while all three have passed through the four years of their college life most successfully.

Albert L. Bourgeois is the son of Mrs. F. Bourgeois, of 40 Arlington street, and graduated from the Lowell high school in 1914, and the Lowell high school in 1918, where he was lieutenant-colonel of the high school regiment. His college career is replete with notable achievements, and as a student, he has been chosen as one of the four speakers who will make addresses on graduation day. Because of excellence in scholarship, Mr. Bourgeois will be graduated "magna cum laude." His other activities included the secretaryship to the "Purple," the college monthly and membership in the Varsity debating team. Next year he expects to pursue the study of law at Harvard.

Vincent M. Martin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Martin of 236 Rogers street and is a product of the Moody grammar school and the Lowell high school, class of 1917. Because of the war, Mr. Martin lost one year of school, but has made ample restitution for the time spent in the service. Besides his scholastic duties, Mr. Martin found time to engage in athletics, being a member of the track team for four consecutive years. He was also a member of the Glee club of the college and the Aquinas circle, an organization of seniors. He expects to teach school in September.

The third local representative is Edward J. Saunders, son of Mrs. Alice Saunders, 57 403 Andover street, who graduated from St. Patrick's school in 1914, afterwards attending the Lowell high school for two years. He then entered Boston College high school, from which he was graduated in 1918. At Holy Cross, he has ranked well, both as a student and athlete. He was elected marshal of "Holy Cross Night" in his senior year and was president of the Glee club. He was also editor of the "Purple Patch," the year book of the graduating class and in one of the most popular students at the Worcester institution. He is undecided as to future plans.

Four Lowell young men, Paul J. Angelo, Joseph J. Couffe, John A. McGuire, Jr., and James H. Riley, will be the recipient of bachelor of law degrees at the commencement exercises of Boston university in Symphony hall, Boston, at 10.30 o'clock next Monday morning, when President J. H. Murfin will confer nearly 700 degrees. The local additions to the legal fraternity will then, after duly passing the bar examination, be full-fledged attorneys.

Paul J. Angelo is the son of Mr. James J. Angelo of 51 Pond street. Receiving his early training at the Moody and high schools, he went directly to Boston university, where he has met with excellent success in his legal studies.

Graduating from the high school in 1918, Angelo had the honor of being president of his class. While in high school he was prominent in military affairs, attaining the rank of major in his senior year, and at the same time was equally well known as a member of the O.M. Cadets. At the close of his high school career he entered an officers' training camp. Taking up the study of piano, he speedily gained proficiency, and is regarded today as one of the best pianists and teachers in the city. He entered local politics last fall, when he was a candidate for councilor from ward five. He is a member of Phi Delta Phi, a prominent legal fraternity. Mr. Angelo is 22 years of age.

Joseph J. Couffe, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Couffe of 181 School street, received his degree of B.L.B. at the age of 21. He was graduated from the St. Angelo's school, New York city, in 1914, and attended Regis high school until 1918, when he came to Lowell and graduated from the local high school in 1919. He is a member of Phi Delta Phi fraternity. He will take the bar examinations on July 1, and will then practice law in Lawrence, Mass.

John A. McGuire, Jr., lives at 281 Foster street. He is a graduate of Lowell high school, class of 1919, and was first lieutenant of Company A, while a student in that school.

Mr. McGuire has been very successful in his law studies, and among his fellow students he enjoys a wide popularity. His attainment of the LL.B. degree will afford his numerous friends in this city a great deal of pleasure.

Mr. McGuire intends to enter upon the practice of law as soon as possible.

James H. Riley, the popular chairman of the school committee, is the son of Mrs. Mary E. Riley of 39 Ma-thuen street. Receiving his early education in the Varnum and high schools, he entered "Canisius" college at Buffalo, N. Y., later transferring to Boston college, where he received the degree of bachelor of arts. At the completion of his scholastic course, he entered upon the study of law at Boston University, and the LL.B. which he will receive Monday will give him two degrees to affix to his name.

Mr. Riley was chosen a member of the school committee last December as the result of a clean-cut, active campaign, and his selection as chairman followed as a matter of course, it seemed. He, too, is expected to enter the legal profession as an active member of the bar.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Today's Session Devoted to Cases Having to do With Milk Law Violations

The 15 minutes session of the district court today was given over to the trial of cases having to do with the violation of milk laws. David Saperstein, who conducts a place at 53 Railroad street, a second offender, was fined $50 for selling milk without a license. George Boudreau was fined $10 for having in his possession milk below the standard required by law. The law says that there must be 12 per cent of solids and 3.35 per cent butyric acid. A test of samples taken from the defendant's tank showed the milk to be slightly under these requirements.

Saperstein attempted to tell the court several times what should be done and how Inspector Coughlin should perform his duties. The court interrupted Saperstein's oratory long enough to ask him if he was running the court. Saperstein replied in the negative, whereupon the judge told him that he would issue all orders deemed necessary.

David asserted that he thought Coughlin should have warned himself and his wife regarding illegal sales. He said that Coughlin was paid for such things and that he was a smart man. The court asked Saperstein, "Well, you are a smart man too, aren't you?"

Saperstein replied: "Yes, but I'm only half as smart as the inspector." The defendant was brought into court on May 10 and fined $20 for not having a license. On May 21 Inspector Coughlin said that he visited the store and found evidence of sales. He also testified that Mrs. Saperstein had followed him down the street on two occasions attempting to get a license. Inspector Coughlin told her that she would be given a license the same as anyone else if her place of business was put in proper condition. The case of Charles Thomas, charged with larceny, was continued to June 21.

TO CONFER WITH BOARD

Mayor Contemplates Shake-up But Will First Consult Service Board

Mayor George H. Brown stated today that he will confer with the board of public service before making any recommendations that, if voted, would mean a shake-up in departments coming under the jurisdiction of the board.

Changes that the mayor has in mind would make Joseph Garrity superintendent of streets and transfer Harry P. Doherty, the present superintendent, to the superintendency of the division of ashes and waste collection. Sutton Wilson, ash division superintendent, whose tenure of office expires next Saturday now that a civil service eligible list has been established, would be retained as a stock clerk and utility man, with a reduction in pay. Michael H. Harrington, of the water department, who heads the new list for the ash division superintendency, would be cared for by making him an assistant to Supt. Robert Gardner and James H. Reynolds, who now occupies that position, would be given the title of engineer of the filtration plant.

The mayor frankly said that he has not given the contemplated changes a great deal of thought, but, if made, feels that they would work out to the advantage of all departments involved. He brought out the fact that they would not mean any increases in salary rolls.

Particularly, the mayor spoke of the idea to promote Joseph Garrity from assistant superintendent to superintendent, and expressed the belief that he is the logical man for the place.

It may be that the conference between the mayor and the public service board will come prior to tomorrow's meeting of the board and if so, it is probable that recommendations covering the changes will be made at that time.

MATRIMONIAL

A large congregation attended the wedding of Mr. Victor Hamel, a prominent young resident of Lowell, to Miss Cecile Latour, a popular young woman of Dracut, which took place this morning, at a nuptial mass celebrated at St. Louis church. The bride was handsomely attired in white silk with overalls of georgette crepe. She wore a veil caught up with sweet peas and carried an ivory prayer book. She was given away by her father, Mr. Arthur Latour, while the groom was attended by his father, Mr. Nos Hamel. Little Miss Lorraine Hamel, a sister of the groom, acted as flower girl, she being attired in white point lace. She carried a large shower bouquet of bridal roses and sweet peas. During the service, hymns were sung by the children of Mary, society choir, of which the bride was a member. Miss Stella Latour, an aunt of the bride, rendered Guinold's "Ave Maria," while Mrs. Antonietta Boudreau sang "O Sanctus." Other hymns were also sung by Miss Rose Lussier, Miss Ida Mongrain presiding at the organ. At the close of the ceremony, the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's grandfather, Mr. Louis Latour, in Hemlock street, Dracut, where a wedding breakfast was served to the immediate relatives of the couple. At noon, Mr. and Mrs. Hamel, who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts, left on an automobile honeymoon trip to Worcester, Springfield and New York. Upon their return, June 28, they will be met at the home of the groom's parents, 77 Dracut street, where they will make their home. Last Friday evening, the bride, who is a popular employee of the Bay State Cotton Corp., was tendered a miscellaneous shower by her shop-mates and was presented numerous gifts. She was also made the recipient of gifts by her former fellow employees at the Lawrence Mill Co. On the same evening, the groom was presented a purse of gold by his father.

Little Observance of Flag Day Here—Elks Hold Exercises Tonight

Many bare flag poles dotted Lowell's skyline today, on the 15th observance of the adoption of the national emblem by the Continental congress. Old Glory was conspicuous by its absence in many places, although there was more general display of flags than is habitual week in and week out.

In many of the schools class room exercises were held this forenoon, but there were no set programs where the entire student body was called together. In several instances, Gov. Cox's proclamation was read.

It was not difficult to count the number of flags flying from standards on buildings in Merrimack street between the square and city hall. The city hall flag was run up early this morning as well as the flags on the Associate, Thompson Hardware, Mechanics bank, A. G. Pollard, Chaffoux, Union bank, D. L. Page, The Sun and the Courier-Citizen buildings. The store of the Boston Ladies' Outfitters showed four smaller flags on the building front. The Massachusetts mill flag also was out. Two flags were noticed on the Bradley building in Central street.

At the Elks club tonight exercises in observance of the day will be held, with an address to be delivered by John P. Farley.

God Built Him a continent of glory, and filled it with treasures untold;
He carpeted it with soft-rolling prairies and columned it with thundering mountains;
He studded it with sweet-flowing fountains and traced it with long-winding streams;
He planted it with deep-shadowed forests and filled them with song.
Then He called unto a thousand peoples and summoned the harvest among them.
They came from the ends of the earth, each bearing a gift and a hope.
The glow of adventure was in their eyes, and in their hearts the glory of hope.
And out of the bounty of earth and the labor of men, out of the longing of hearts and the prayer of souls, out of the memory of ages and hopes of the world,
God fashioned a nation in love, blessed it with a purpose sublime—and called it

"CASEY JONES" PULLS HOT ONE ON DENTIST

Another bunco scheme was added to the long list recorded in the police record book yesterday when a local dentist came forth with a woe-filled tale of how he had been "gipped" out of $85 in cash and merchandise by a stranger who went at all smooth in his make-up, but extremely smooth in his manner of attack.

Bustily at work in his office, the heart of the dentist softened greatly as he noted a man in overalls and jumper come into the reception room and take a seat. The man availed his turn and when asked what the trouble was re-

DENY BUSCH KAISER'S CLOSEST FRIEND IN U. S.

ST. LOUIS, June 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Denial that the late Adolphus Busch "was possibly the Kaiser's closest friend in America" as charged by Chairman Lasker of the shipping board, was made at the offices of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., today, with the announcement that a second letter was in preparation to the shipping board on the subject of liquor sales on shipping board vessels, and answering Mr. Lasker's charges of the Busch connections with Germany.

The letter will state that the Anheuser-Busch organization reserves the "right to protest when the United States government buys German beer to sell on its ships and will not let American beer be made" the announcement said.

Harding Approved Plan

The announcement declared that "if the government decides to make an investigation of this matter, we will establish by a reliable witness, that Mr. Lasker has said that he went to President Harding with this whole matter, and told him that the sale of liquor on the shipping board ships would help to solve the board's financial problems, and that he said that President Harding replied to him: 'Mr. Lasker, you are chairman of the shipping board, you know what to do.'"

George Washington, and which was forwarded to President Harding, was made public here today, together with an accompanying letter to Adolphus Busch, III, his son. A first letter by Anheuser-Busch, Inc., addressed to members of congress, re-

Triumvirate to Replace Lenine for 6 Mos.

BERLIN, June 14.—(By the Associated Press)—The Independent Socialist Freiheit says today that a triumvirate will take the place of Premier Lenine of soviet Russia, during a six months absence from Moscow, when his health will oblige him to take. The three men who will hold the reins, according to this newspaper, are J. V. Stalin, Leo Kamenef and A. I. Rykoff. M. Stalin is a Georgian Bolshevik of Turkish nationality, described as a strong man, the newspaper article continues. M. Kamenef is president of the Moscow soviet and is considered a liberal. M. Rykoff was one of the first champions of the new economic policy. He is believed to have liberal views but, Die Freiheit adds, is not considered a strong man. The appointment of the triumvirate has been reported unofficially by the communist party.

1300 Women and Children Massacred

LONDON, June 14.—Charges that 1300 Christian women and children were taken by the Turks from Samsun, on the Black sea to the interior and massacred near Kavak, two weeks ago, are contained in a telegram received by the Greek defense committee here from Archbishop Metaxakis, Greek patriarch of Constantinople.

THE MAYOR'S PACKARD

Car Was Registered Three

Days Before Competitive

Bids Were Opened

What is competitive bidding as it applies to equipment or supplies bought for the city of Lowell?

Last Saturday at 11 a. m. the purchasing agent opened bids to furnish an automobile for the mayor's department at a cost not to exceed $3000. That noon the mayor purchased, or ordered a Packard single-six touring car, which was immediately delivered, at a cost of $2938.

Today, a clerk in the registry of motor vehicles in Boston gave out the information that registration number 286,345 is for a Packard car, registered in the name of The City of Lowell, Mayor's Department, on June 7, June 7 was Wednesday, or 12 hours before the bids were opened.

Naturally, people wonder why a Packard car was registered three days before the competitive bids were opened. Mr. Cooney submitted bids on the regulation and the Packard proposal was the highest of the lot. The question "now arises—is competitive bidding on city supplies anything but a meaningless performance, with the article to be purchased already determined upon beforehand?

TRIBUTE TO THE FLAG

serves Flag Day at Regular

Weekly Luncheon

Flag day was appropriately observed by the Lowell Advertising club at its weekly luncheon held this noon in the girls' city club with 250 members in attendance. Following the luncheon, President Frank Ricard called the meeting to order and announced that the club would pay a tribute to the flag.

The president introduced John J. Walsh, historian of the American Legion, who led the salute to the flag. This was followed by the singing of the Star Spangled Banner. The flag was loaned through the courtesy of the legion.

Some members called for the singing of the club's booster song and this was put across in big, lusty style with Miss Sadie Sheehan leading the singers, and George Smith at the piano. Miss Sheehan later rendered several solos upon request of the chair.

Edward J. Cooney, chairman of the Scheming Circle, made a report on the meeting of that branch held Monday night. He announced the appointment of chairmen for several committees which will start to function as soon as the winter program of the club is mapped out. The following were announced: educational committee, Miles Dallison; dinner committee, Frank McPhae; entertainment committee, Charles Kayes; outing committee, Robert Wood; budget committee, Lewis Balfe. Committees on luncheon speakers and a "Made in Lowell" exhibit will be appointed later.

The club plans to have one more meeting next week and then suspend meetings until cooler weather. Plans

1000 Storms Jail

Authorities Resort to Use of

Gas Bombs to Repel Ad-

vance of Angry Crowd

JACKSON, Mich., June 14.—Use of tear gas to repel the advances of more than a thousand angry citizens of Jackson, who sought to take George Straub, confessed slayer of Miss Alice Mallett, from the custody of the sheriff, is largely responsible for Straub's safety in an unnamed Michigan city today.

The prisoner, disguised as a city freeman, marched through the ranks of the crowd that sought his life last night, and was spirited out of Jackson several hours before it was learned he had left the jail.

Several units of National Guardsmen, police reserves and state police officers assisted the local authorities today in guarding against recurrence of disorder.

In the crowd that stormed the county jail were more than 100 women. One of the leaders of the movement was a white-haired woman, who first pleaded with officers to deliver the prisoner, then demanded it, and finally was at the head of several rushes of the crowd toward the jail doors.

Each time the situation grew threatening, officers resorted to the use of gas bombs, which scattered the crowds.

are being worked up for an exhibition, to be held in the auditorium, which will display only goods made in this city. Next week's meeting will be a monster one and something big is promised by the committee working on the affair.

Harry Pearson, a former Lowell boy, now connected with the O. J. Guide advertising company of New York, was present as Mr. Cooney's guest and he was called upon to say a few words. He complimented the local organization upon its rapid growth and said that this city now boasted of the second largest advertising club in New England. He told of his work in connection with the organization of advertising clubs in New England, while a member of the national board of advertisers.

NOTRE DAME ACADEMY

Commencement Exercises

Held in Convent Chapel—

Class of 13 Graduated

With the celebration of a solemn high mass in the pretty convent chapel, the 1922 class of Notre Dame academy was graduated this morning at 10 o'clock. The celebrant of the mass was Rev. Francis L. Keenan. He was assisted by Rev. Joseph A. Curran and Rev. Joseph J. Keenan, as sub-deacon. Rev. Michael J. Gilbride, pastor of St. Mary's church, Collinsville, was master of ceremonies.

Shortly before 10 o'clock the members of the class, gown in white and wearing long white veils, admirably suited the spiritual beauty of the occasion, entered the chapel and took seats in the front pews on either side of the main aisle. The body of the chapel was well filled with friends and relatives, and the corridor in the rear was crowded with additional seats for the accommodation of the late comers.

Seated in the sanctuary were Rt. Rev. Msgr. William O'Brien, J.P.P., of St. Patrick's church; Rev. James A. Supple, D.D., assistant at St. Patrick's; Rev. John P. REPORT BRITISH LOAN TO IRELAND

To Aid in Financing Dublin

garding Status of Irish Ne-

gotiations

LONDON, June 14 (by the Associated Press).—Considerable optimism is felt regarding the status of the Irish negotiations, and it is suggested in some quarters that today's conference may be the last. In any event, it is declared that very little more discussion will be necessary for a complete agreement.

Yesterday's conversations with reference to safeguarding the minorities in the south are understood to have been entirely satisfactory and will probably result in the insertion in the new Irish constitution of provisions under which the minorities will be enabled to share in the government of the Free State.

It is reported that the British treasury may make a loan to the Dublin government until it is functioning more effectively.

Not Requested to Take Oath

LONDON, June 14 (By the Associated Press).—The members of the Irish provisional parliament, which has been summoned for July 1, will not be required to take the oath prescribed by the treaty. Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary for the colonies, announced in the house of commons yesterday afternoon, although the ministers of the provisional government will be required to do so under the terms of the treaty.

As for the members of the parliament of the Free State, he explained they would have to take the oath. The colonial secretary made his announcement in answer to questions concerning the Irish provisional parliament.

Robert Munro, secretary for Scotland, replying to heated questions with regard to the question which Baron de Valera purposes to address this week, declared that the government had no power to prevent the meetings.

CONFER WITH MAYOR ON PLAYGROUND PLAN

Members of the parent-teachers' association of the Morey school and other interested in the development of an adequate playground in that residential section, held an informal conference this forenoon with Mayor George H. Brown, to enlist his interest in a proposition to acquire additional land in the neighborhood of the school.

Albert W. Bennett, headmaster of the Morey school, spoke in favor of the idea.

According to present plans, it is the wish of the people interested that the city take over land on the easterly side of Morey school, adjacent to the school grounds and running back as far as Shaw street. On the west side of Wilder street two two-flat houses would be acquired and the land used for the development and enlargement of the play area.

Mr. Bennett said today that he does not believe that the total cost would exceed $100,000, and added that unless some action is taken on the project at the present time, the opportunity may slip by and future building on the land would make the taking both impractical and expensive.

BOSTON, June 14.—Max Sonand, until a month ago a messenger in the office of Walter Pierce, a New York broker, was arrested here today, charged with the larceny of two diamond rings and $100 in cash from the firm of Harris & Lawton, jewelers, of this city, and also the larceny of three United States gold certificates 4% per cent bonds and three Liberty loan bonds, each valued at $1000. The bonds were registered under the name of Frances Knapp.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 14.—Gov. San Souel, following a conference today with Adjutant General Charles W. Abbot, announced that he had given the latter full authority "to call out all the troops necessary to deal with the situation in the Pawtuxet valley, if it requires every man in the national guard."

The order which prohibits attempts to interfere with employees of the corporation, was sought after a tumultuous assemblage in Arctic village, in the course of which windows in the homes of a number of mill workers were smashed.

Judge Tanner set June 20 as the date for hearings on the question of issuance of an injunction against the strikers and orders subpoenas to issue for William H. Derrick and James J. Dick, organizers for the Amalgamated, and Thomas E. Harrop, chairman of the Pawtuxet valley strike committee.

WILL OF BIRON TRUETT
SALEM, June 14.—By the will of Biron Truett of Lawrence, who died June 9, his estate, estimated at $600,000, is left in trust for his two daughters and upon their death, the Lawrence Street Congregational church, Lawrence, is to receive $5000; Lawrence Home for Aged People, Y.M.C.A., Lawrence General hospital, Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum, all of Lawrence, each $1000.

MILLIONS EXACTED IN UNJUSTIFIABLE PROFITS

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Charles that importers of foreign merchandise have exacted "millions of dollars annually in excess and unjustifiable profits" from the consumers of this country, chiefly women, were made today by Chairman McCumber of the senate finance committee, in a formal statement dealing with the results of an investigation made by the treasury department and the committee.

The whole matter, however, was brought to a head only recently, when the council committee on public properties, Councillor Appleton, chairman, recommended that repairs be made on a number of school buildings and the police station on an estimated cost of $25,000. It was impossible to have the buildings department do the work out of its appropriation and the question then arose as to how the money could be secured. Including it in a general order such as outlined above would solve the matter, it is believed.

As to the $20,000 for the Memorial auditorium, the mayor has had an order before the council for some time, to transfer this amount from the overlay surplus account to auditorium maintenance. A number of

Feeling that the appropriations voted many of the city departments this year when the budget was adopted are not large enough to carry through the 12 months, a plan is in the process of development at city hall, whereby additional appropriations to the amount of approximately $85,000 will be passed in the form of a supplementary budget, although the money will be taken from the prior revenue account and therefore, will not be applicable to the tax levy of 1922.

Mayor Brown said today that the plan is taking shape and possibly may be presented to the city council for consideration tomorrow night. Departments included in the disbursement and the amounts tentatively decided upon for each follow:

Repairs to School$25,000
Buildings 25,000
Police 5,000
Claims 5,000
Fire 7,000
Memorial Auditorium..... 20,000

Total$87,000

It has been felt for some time by several members of the council that additional moneys would have to be provided some time during the year to "piece out" in a number of departments. "The buildings department, for instance, has been obliged to run along on half-time work for its employees and claims paid so far this year have left that appropriation of $5000 practically depleted. The purchase of a ladder truck in the fire department for $3500 cut a hole in that appropriation and the police department appropriation, also, has shown signs of being unable to last through the year.

As to the $20,000 for the Memorial auditorium, the mayor has had an order before the council for some time, to transfer this amount from the overlay surplus account to auditorium maintenance. A number of

DRY LECTURER KILLS WOMAN

PHILADELPHIA, June 11.—George Tyler of Baltimore, lecturer on "The Pitfalls of Rum," was held by the coroner yesterday to be criminally responsible for the death of Miss Mary Emley on May 27, on the ground that he was intoxicated while driving the automobile that killed her. He was bound over to await grand jury action.

When Police Surgeon Keller testified that Tyler was unsteady and smelled of alcohol during his examination right after the accident, Tyler called his physician to prove that he suffered from locomotor ataxia causing him to be unsteady on his feet.

The alcoholic breath, Tyler claimed, was due to a medicine he took for the ailment, which left a liquorous odor on his breath.

James J. Reynolds, Elmhurst Wilford, Martin L. Connors, Kenneth Goward and Thomas Pym; manual training department, Emilio E. Gelleneau; commercial department, Mary E. Eagan, Carmen Irediker; domestic science, Susan B. Driscoll, M. Heleno Regan, Jennie C. Meehan, Blanche Boyle, and Agnes M. Dalton; drawing, Georgia Hildesheim. All of these elected belong in Lowell.

The election of nine academic teachers automatically displaced William A. Donovan and Joseph M. Donoghue, each of whom has been teaching at the high school regularly for the past year. Also, the recommendations of the superintendent of schools were not followed in every instance.

The other feature of the meeting was Mr. Sullivan's objection to the wording of a certain scholarship to be given to a Jewish student at the high school by the Board of Health. The wording of the scholarship as appearing in the program of studies for next year is as follows: "The Industrial Order of B'nai B'rith of Lowell has established a scholarship for a deserving graduate of the high school of Jewish faith, boy or girl, preference being given to a candidate for a college of liberal arts. Information concerning this scholarship may be obtained from the boardmaster."

The part Mr. Sullivan objected to was the words "of Jewish faith." He contended that it would establish a precedent if such a scholarship were allowed to stand and that it would be as bad as bringing in a clause which would have to do with politics. He claimed that the schools of Lowell should not recognize any certain faith and that the wording of the scholarship would do just that thing.

Principal Henry H. Harris was called upon to explain the matter. He said that he could now see that the wording of the scholarship might be a little offensive but that he was sure the order would be glad to have the objectionable part stricken out. The committee voted to instruct Mr. Harris to look into the matter and take it up with the B'nai B'rith.

Meeting In Detail

The meeting was called to order at 11:15 o'clock by Chairman James H. Riley, with all members present. He announced that this was a special meeting to take up the matter of electing high school teachers and any other business which might come before the body.

The first business taken up was the recommendation of the business agent, that steps be taken to connect the heating plant of the high school annex with the new building. The recommendation was adopted and left with the business agent. The business agent was also authorized to attend to the matter of renting a plot of land next to the high school, and to erect a fence between the property and adjoining property. If such a fence was needed.

The salary of Miss Eaton, a teacher previously elected to the Bartlett training school, was fixed at $1600. All voted with the exception of Mr. Mullin.

A recommendation was read from Mr. Harris, which would change the hours of the high school session. Mr. Harris explained that under the present arrangement it was impossible to properly prepare the scholars for institutions of higher learning. The new schedule as adopted calls for the session to open at 8:15 and to close at 1:45.

Election of Teachers

When it came to the election of the teachers Mr. Molloy was called upon to present his recommendations. The recommendations were read and noted by the committee. In the election that followed, however, some of the teachers elected were not upon the superintendent's recommendation. Several members of the committee refused to follow the lead of others in voting for those who had not been recommended.

The first members elected are to be connected with the academic department. They were chosen with little or no discussion.

On a motion of Mr. Delaney Mr. Golleneau was elected. The election of Miss Egan and Miss Irediker to the commercial department followed. When it came to the election of a third teacher for this department a question was made that this be left upon the table. There were several in opposition to this and a roll call was ordered. The motion prevailed by a slight margin.

When it came to the election of the head of the domestic science department, Mr. Harris came forward with recommendations for Miss Heleno Regan. He said that Miss Lockwood was qualified for the position in every way and that she had a great record to look back upon.

Mr. Delaney offered the name of Miss Mary E. Lano, a Lowell girl, and read her qualifications. This was followed by the reading of the qualifications of Miss Susan B. Driscoll by Mr. Sullivan. Supt. Molloy then spoke of the qualifications of Miss Lockwood, and said that if the committee did not look with favor upon the application of Miss Lockwood, he thought it should seriously consider that of Miss Driscoll, also. A Lowell girl, who had much experience in that line. On the third ballot Miss Driscoll was elected. The election of her three assistants followed.

The election of Miss Hildesheim to the drawing department was unanimous.

BLACK GLOVES

Black gloves are worn this season on many well dressed women. The value for black gloves is pretty high and the cost of keeping up light colored kid gloves is another reason for their popularity.

LINGERIE

Many women who can do a little sewing and it is profitable to make their own lingerie, as this is very simple, and the garments cost about a third as much as in shops. Others may plain pieces and add the lace trimmings and the ribbon bows themselves.

TSAFFARAS RESIGNS FROM POLICE FORCE

Patrolman Peter Tsaffaras last night resigned as a member of the Lowell police department. Following his resignation, the charges preferred against him Monday night by Superintendent of Police Thomas R. Atkinson were withdrawn.

Tsaffaras was removed from duty by Supt. Atkinson on Monday night for failing to answer a general alarm fire call and for failure to report a duty call. Tsaffaras then had a conference with Mr. Atkinson, at which time it was agreed that he would resign if the removal order were revoked. This was done yesterday afternoon and the officer resigned last night.

His resignation reads as follows: "I hereby tender my resignation as police officer of the city of Lowell. This resignation to take effect immediately."

Tsaffaras then turned in his badge, belt and club and walked from the station without making a statement of any kind.

Urge Defeat of Ship Subsidy Bill

FREDONIA, N. Y., June 14.—Influence of the National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, will be exerted to defeat the ship subsidy bill, Sherman J. Lowell, master, announced here.

"The grange," he stated, "believes a subsidy is wrong in principle. When a business or enterprise is subsidized, it is subsidized at the expense of others. The grange believes in a fair show and no favors. Because of this belief, the entire influence of the organization will be used to defeat the measure." Mr. Lowell has addressed a letter to state masters asking them to throw their support against passage of the bill. The order has two million members.

House Occupied by Pawtucket Mill Workers Blown Up —All Rescued

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 14.—Police are trying to locate three men who were seen early today near a tenement house in Water street, where fire broke out and trapped a number of occupants, including three employees of the Pawtucket Spinning Co., one of the concerns affected by the textile strike. These employees said they had previously received threatening letters in which they were warned to give up work at the mill. Joseph Laroc, the owner of the house, says the fire was preceded by an explosion in the entrance to the building, which was covered with gasoline and kerosene. After the fire, two empty cans smelling of oil and gasoline were found under a stairway. Police and firemen rescued several of the occupants and the blaze was extinguished before much damage was done.

In addressing the graduates, Rev. Fr. Heagney told of the value of an education obtained in a Catholic school, dedicated to the honor and glory of God, where everything begins and ends with an invocation to God and his Divine Mother. He said the students throughout their course of study have been instructed in everything worthy of womanhood, sheltered from a passionate world, and their characters wrought in peace and quiet. He offered the graduates his sincere congratulations on their good fortune in completing their course in such an environment.

Fr. Heagney urged that the world today needs character more than any other attribute. The convent sends out students equipped splendidly for the glory of God, as the Sisters of Notre Dame give them the best of educational instructions and bring out the noblest traits of character. He hoped that their souls would be kept in readiness to answer God's call.

The program followed by the presentation of diplomas by Monsignor O'Brien, and the congregation scattered to many parts of the academy, many to inspect the splendid display of student work on the floor above. Here, in a large room, are exhibits of china painting, portraiture, drawings, water color and charcoal sketches, tapestries beautifully embroidered and a legion of other articles adorned by the students of the institution. The sisters of Notre Dame were everywhere about, eager to call attention to the work of their beloved pupils.

The program followed: Solemn high mass, celebrant, Rev. Francis J. Keenan; Rev. Joseph A. Curtin, deacon, Rev. Joseph Keenan, sub-deacon.

Master of ceremonies, Rev. Michael C. Gillette.

To Tap Prior Revenue Fund

connections, however, led by President Patrick J. Bagley, have formed strong opposition to such a financial procedure and therefore, it is included in the new plan.

The mayor stated today that additional money would have to be provided some time this year and as he does not want to add to the tax levy, he feels justified in taking the money from the prior revenue account.

For information, prior revenue is the accumulation of surplus accounts, either cash, accounts receivable or outstanding obligations to the credit of the city. At the present time the account totals $172,684.55 and it is felt that it can well withstand "milking" to the extent of $55,000.

The buildings department was voted an appropriation of $100,000 in the budget and a special appropriation of $18,000 for building repairs was cut out entirely. The fire department appropriation was $100,000, while the police department was given approximately $330,000.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken it for five months now. I have a big boy who weighed almost nine pounds at birth and I do all my housework and don't feel a bit nervous or upset any more. I still take your medicine and have told all my friends what good it has done me."

Mrs. MARGARET GREGORY, 440 Valley Road, West Orange, N. J.

West New York, N. J.—"The first two months I carried my baby I was in bed almost every day with sick headaches. I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the first bottle helped me. I took seven more and I know I couldn't feel better than I did. The headaches stopped and I was able to do my own work. I have a baby girl six months old who weighs twenty pounds and is the picture of health."

Mrs. J. McCoy, 207 20th St., West New York, N. J.

Nervous and Run-Down Biloxi, Miss.—"Just a word of praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it with wonderful results before my baby was born. I was so nervous and run-down that I was a wreck of misery. I had pains in my sides and back so bad that I could not stay still or sleep nights. My husband was reading your 'ad.' in the paper and I decided to try your Vegetable Compound. After I had taken half a bottle I felt a change and was soon as well as ever. I took it the whole time and recommend it to every woman who is suffering as I was. People said that because I was so young I would never pull through and I praise your Vegetable Compound for my good health."

Mrs. Enoch J. STEVENS, 830 Fayerd St., Biloxi, Miss.

Chicago, Ill.—"I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for all prospective mothers. I suffered from weakness and faint spells and had to lie down twice a day for an hour or so before I could go on with my work. My cousin, who lives in Wisconsin, has used your Vegetable Compound for over five years and she came to us for a visit and she recommended it to me, saying she would pay for the bottle if it didn't help me. I took that bottle and got more, as I found it gave me great relief. I recommend it to my friends and sisters and am willing for you to use these facts to help others."

Mrs. I. J. KUNINSKI, 1813 W. 17th St., Chicago, Illinois.

IN PRAYER FOR IRISH SOLDIER DEAD

The Pro-Cathedral at Dublin was so crowded that many members of the Irish republican army knelt in prayer outside the church at the services held upon the first anniversary of the burning of the Dublin customs house when many of the I. R. A. lost their lives.

MEETING OF CLAIMS COMMITTEE

The city council committee on claims, meeting last night with the city solicitor, voted to recommend to the city to pay compensation for the city for alleged damages. On a number of other claims it was voted to either settle on a fair basis or investigate further.

Present at the meeting were Chairman Smith J. Adams, Councilors Stearns, McManis and Cameron, Solicitor Tierney, Lieut. Alexander Durean and Edward P. Mulry.

Most of the petitioners who were given leave to withdraw presented claims involving injuries sustained by falls on icy sidewalks. The city solicitor expressed the opinion that the city is not liable and therefore the recommendations were dismissed in the following cases: Annie Allen, Lorenzo A. Ayer, Walter C. Bruce, Lewis C. Clark, Aldis Bechard, T. L. Brown, Arthur J. Bonnard, Patrick Bowler, Mary J. Breen, Lucy S. Barker, Mrs. Catherine Connors, Thomas J. Cusdon, Eliza A. Davis, Henrietta Davis, Mary J. Donnelly, Margaret Gallagher, Julia Clifford, Mrs. Mae Houle, Jean Laundry Co., Arthur Lavole, George W. Morrison, Maud E. Morey, Catherine O'Connor, Annie J. Scott, Charles Simpson, Davis Solomon, Nellie Sullivan, Mary A. Tappey, Empire Trucking Co., Irving Whitcomb, John Chessor, Frank W. Foye, Eliza Goodwin, Winifred Joyce, Michael Kirrane and Ida Spray.

WANT MONEY TO REPAIR SCHOOLS

The council committee on public properties and works, Councilor Edward M. Appleton, chairman, met late yesterday afternoon to discuss ways and means of securing sufficient money to make necessary repairs on a number of school buildings and the police station. Estimates already presented place the cost of this work at $26,000. It was decided to refer the matter to the city solicitor and city auditor to draw up an order in proper form for consideration by the committee at a meeting to be held just prior to the council meeting Thursday night.

Engineers Study Distortion To Gain Perfect Resonance in Radio

BY PAUL F. GODLEY
America's Foremost Radio Authority
Will music lovers ever be able to depend on radio for real music?
The answer depends chiefly on two things:
First, the improvement of transmitting apparatus so that true tone qualities can be delivered to the antenna.
Second, the perfection of receiving equipment.
In view of the progress made along

these lines during the past few months, it is expected that the tone of the music wafted through the air soon will be greatly improved.
That the fundamental law of resonance, upon which all our radio work is so dependent, is the thing which has acted as a stumbling block in the path of the radio engineers. Resonance puts in its appearance in many unexpected places, and produces many undesirable and often unexplainable phenomena. Changes in the design of the equipment, both of a mechanical and electrical nature, have to be made many times before a design without false resonance is perfected.

Overcoming Difficulties
These difficulties will have been surmounted in the broadcasting stations long before they will have been overcome in the stations of the thousands of listening amateurs. Each broadcasting station is being concentrated on by one or more trained engineers, while the majority of the receiving stations will, for some time to come, be equipped with radio apparatus, either built by the amateur himself, or purchased from concerns who have not made it a point to so design the equipment as to take care of these distortions.
This has been particularly true of loud-speaking receivers, and amplifiers used to give the power for driving these loud speakers. Distortion occurs in the amplifier vacuum tubes, in the transformer, and in the reproducing magnetic receiver and its horn. Most of this distortion is a result of attempts to use equipment not designed to carry the necessary energies. Some of it is the result of false resonance within the transformers or reproducing magnetic telephones.

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE ALUMNI

At a meeting of the members of the executive board and the senate of St. Joseph's college alumni held last evening in the college hall in Merrimack street with President Joseph F. Montminy in the chair, plans for the annual outing which will be held on Thursday, Aug. 10, were discussed and committees were appointed to make all arrangements for the event, which always proves a source of enjoyment for all who attend.

The grounds for the outing have not yet been selected as the matter was left entirely in the hands of the grounds committee. It is believed, however, that an endeavor will be made to secure the grounds of the Genoa club in Tyngsboro, where the event has been conducted for the past few years. The committees appointed are as follows: Grounds and transportation—Arthur Gaudette, chairman; Arthur H. Giroux and John E. Richards, sports—Arthur H. Giroux, chairman; Victor Alexander and Louis Parent, prizes—George Marchand, chairman; Tancred L. Blanchette, Louis Parent, Leonora Clonet and J. B. Blaissonette, badges—Adelard Leguin, chairman; Arthur Simard, Napoleon Milot and J. Renaud, tickets—Emile Lemire.

In the course of the meeting several questions of importance were discussed and a motion to amend the by-laws of the organization was presented. This calls for making the retiring president, dean of the alumni with the same privileges as the members of the executive board, and it will be acted upon at the general meeting to be held July 20.

The executive board of the alumni is composed of the following: Joseph F. Montminy, president; Adelard Leguin, vice president; Arthur H. Giroux, financial secretary; Joseph Marchand, corresponding secretary; Emile Lemire, treasurer; George Marchand, Louis Parent, Leonora Clonet, J. B. Blaissonette and Frank Cayer, directors.

Postal Inspectors Seek Missing Clerk

BOSTON, June 14.—Postoffice inspectors were searching today for Thomas F. Murray, a clerk in charge of the money order division at the North Postal station, who disappeared last Thursday shortly after auditors took his books for examination. Postoffice authorities say that Murray went out for luncheon shortly after the auditors arrived, and did not return. Later the auditors reported that a shortage had been discovered in the accounts of the money order division. Murray is being sought for an explanation of the alleged discrepancy.

THE STRAND

"At the Stage Door," with Lillian "Billie" Dove starring, and Herbert Rawlinson in "The Scrapper," a great story about a young Irish engineer, are winning unqualified approbation by patrons of The Strand. Both are unusual pictures and worthy of the many good things that are being said of them. They will be shown for the last time today. "Iron to Gold," the new Dustin Farnum picture is a story written by George Owen Baxter, and is described as a "western minus a ranch." They will be shown for the last time today. "Iron to Gold," the new Dustin Farnum picture is a story written by George Owen Baxter, and is described as a "western minus a ranch." They will be shown for the last time today.

Shirley Mason's picture, "Jackie," is a delightfully interesting story of an English girl who sings herself into "upper social circles and wins favor and fortune from one of its leaders.

"QUEEN OF SHEBA" COMING

The dancers who contribute so much verve and pep in the big Fox production "Queen of Sheba," coming to the Merrimack Square Theatre Sunday for a four days' engagement, constitute one of the most important details of the massive production. They are all professional experts chosen from the ranks of the greatest dancers of the day.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Final performances will be given this evening at the Merrimack Square Theatre of "Across the Continent," starring Wallace Field, and "The Ordeal," with Agnes Ayres in the leading role. There will be the usual mid-week change of program Thursday.

The features for Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be "Sisters," a big dramatic production starring Genevieve and Matt Moore, and "Midnight," with Constance Binney in the leading role. A comedy and the International News will complete the bill. It has been some time since such an exceptionally talented cast has been assembled for a single production as that assembled in "Sisters." Miss Owen and Mr. Moore have long held sway on the screen as leaders in the art of dramatic interpretation, and Gladys Leslie, who supports them, is fast becoming a star in her own right.

"Sisters" has been adapted from Kathleen Norris' wonderful story that thrilled thousands and in all parts of the country a short time ago. It has all the pathos of "Humoresque" and all the charm of "The Sheik."

Constance Binney, rising little star of two short years ago, is rapidly graduating from mere pretty girl roles into strong emotional acting. She has proven her ability to handle difficult roles by her splendid work in "The Case of Becky" and "First Love," two recent pictures.

MISS BENTLEY HONORED

A very pretty, unassuming shower took place at the home of Miss Irene Bentley Monday evening when about 35 of her friends called and showered her with gifts, congratulations and best wishes for her brilliant future. Although completely taken by surprise, Miss Bentley responded in a very pleasant manner and thanked her many friends for their thoughtfulness and kindness. The house was artistically decorated with pink and white roses and ferns. One of the best features of the evening was a mock marriage in which the following took part: Mrs. Dorothy Currier as bride, Miss Lucile Gendreau as groom, Miss Cecelia Gendreau, bridemaid, Miss Hagge, best man, Miss Marietta Gendreau, minister. The costumes of the bridal party caused much fun, and they were loudly applauded. Mrs. Marietta gave very pleasing vocal selection. Mrs. Beat Gendreau Archambault was also heard in delightful vocal numbers. Mrs. Todd favored with piano selections. Games were played and refreshments were served and the party broke up showering Miss Bentley with good wishes. Miss Bentley in the near future will become the wife of Dr. William Fernandez, a popular young physician of Boston.

Mrs. Minnie Hagge and Miss Charlotte Casagrande were responsible for the affair, while everyone present helped to make it such a success. Mrs. Archambault and Miss M. Brown were the accompanists of the evening.

EMBROIDERY

300 PERSONS DROWNED IN RAGING FLOOD

SAN SALVADOR, Republic of Salvador, June 14. (By the Associated Press)—Three hundred persons are known to have been drowned and many persons are missing following an abnormal rise in the Achehuente and Arenal rivers, which overflowed their banks and joined together in one stream, inundating the Candelaria district of this city. Several houses were swept away by the raging torrent.

The bodies of 300 men, women and children already have been found. The flood was caused by a two-day torrential rainfall.

The government has sent a relief expedition here to succor people in distress. A large subscription list has been started for the relief of the sufferers.

LOWELL WOMAN BUYS CHELMSFORD HOME

The property of Mrs. Alice M. Leth, located at the corner of Gorham and Centre streets, in East Chelmsford, and consisting of a residence, barn and six acres of land, has been sold to Mrs. Eugene Gagnon of this city. It is said that the price paid was in the vicinity of $7000. The two-family dwelling house at 35-37 Exeter street, owned by Stephen and Angeline Ouellette, has been purchased by Armand and Donald Bergeron. The building contains all modern improvements. The price paid was about $5000. Both sales were effected through the office of St. Pierre & Bergeron.

COULDN'T RAISE HER ARMS TO COMB HER HAIR

Boston Woman Hasn't a Trace of Rheumatism Left Since Taking Tanlac and Says She Never Felt Better in Life

"I feel perfectly splendid now, not a complaint in the world. And I just wish I could tell everybody in New England what a great medicine Tanlac is," said Mrs. Mary L. Swan, a highly esteemed resident of 63 Kendall st., Boston, Mass.

"For two years not a day passed that I didn't suffer from rheumatism. The pains in my arms and shoulders were so bad I couldn't raise my hands to comb my hair, and I suffered so much I thought sure I would go distracted. About a year ago the rheumatism went into my limbs and hips, and I got so bad that I could hardly walk. I had spells when the agony was so great it just took all my strength, and one day I fell right in a heap as I was leaving the kitchen, and had to scream and call some of my neighbors to my assistance. I was so afraid of having one of those attacks on the streets that every time I left the house I had a feeling that they would bring me home in an ambulance. I was very nervous, and although I spent a small fortune trying to get relief, it was all in vain. I got worse.

Well, the Tanlac testimonials appealed to me so much that I decided to try the medicine, and it was simply surprising how it began to help me. I have taken three bottles now, and those pains are completely gone from my arms and shoulders and I can comb my hair and dress myself with ease. I can walk for hours now and never feel a touch of pain. The fact is, I never felt better in my life than I do now, and my advice to anyone suffering from rheumatism is to take Tanlac by all means." Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Adv.

BIRTHDAY OF THE FLAG

RESOLVED, That the flag of the United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the Union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation. Adopted by the Continental Congress, June 14, 1777.

This is Flag day, the 145th anniversary of the adoption of the American flag by the Continental Congress. This observance is one in which all can join without reservation in honoring the flag, the emblem of freedom representing the greatest, the grandest, the freest nation on earth.

That flag was first raised when the revolutionary fathers won the independence of the colonies and established this republic. Beneath its folds the patriots were proud to fight and to die in the glorious cause of freedom; and since by the sacrifice of many precious lives, freedom was established on these shores never to be dislodged, the generations that have followed have ever shown heroic patriotism in their readiness to die, if necessary, in their defense of the flag and all it represents.

In every war in which the security or the liberties of this nation were threatened, millions of brave men have come to the front ready as were the founders to give their lives for the flag in order that the liberty which it represents shall live on forever. So it was in the War of 1812, so in the Civil war, so in the Spanish-American war and so in the World war—always millions of brave men ready to sacrifice their lives for the flag of the free.

What does this mean but that from age to age the flag will always have true defenders who will proudly die beneath its folds to perpetuate the constitution and the freedom its represents.

"Romanus Sun" was the boast of every Roman citizen and so every American may well boast of his American citizenship, which means the enjoyment of the most complete system of human freedom that exists upon the earth and which in turn demands the tribute of loyalty to the flag and all it represents—civil and religious liberty in a union of states one and inseparable.

Well may our school children be taught to respect and reverence the flag and above all to learn what it represents and what it means to every citizen. Under the Stars and Stripes the oppressed of every land have found a refuge and a home; and reverently none have a better right to reverence and honor the glorious flag than those to whom it means redemption from the various ills of tyranny and oppression that are found even to this day in Europe and Asia.

Even in the far-off regions of Russia the flag waves above the relief-stations bringing food and succor to the starving millions. In the war-stricken nations, the people remember that it was the American flag with our brave soldiers behind it that turned the tide of battle and saved them from German sway; and hence not only in our own land, but wherever a friend of freedom and humanity exists on this broad earth, is our flag revered and honored as the foremost beacon light of human liberty, sending forth the inspiration of hope and the love of liberty to people struggling in chains and thus spurred on in their determination to cast off their shackles and assert their inalienable right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Soon the graduates will be let loose from school and soon anxious parents will be trying to decide what is best to do for "Johnny" or "Tommy"; whether to let him go back to school or to college or terminate his school course and have him go to work. On the principle that every boy needs all the education he can get, it is well to give each and all as much education as possible. But at the same time it is important to have this schooling directed toward some particular goal.

As a rule, unless an occupation is chosen before the end of the school course, much time is lost by the graduates in trying to select a calling that will be pleasing to their tastes. Happy the parents whose boy is so firmly set on some worthy calling that, with concentration and perseverance in it, his success is assured. The boys who follow their parents are those whose aptitudes or ambitions are not sufficiently marked to indicate a bent for anything in particular. Such boys flounder about for years before finding their proper place in the industrial environment.

By some it is held that a boy should be left free to choose what he prefers. That is not a safe plan for the reason that nearly every boy will prefer the easy road, although it may lead to a swamp or end "nowhere," whereas the road that may be most difficult to travel in the beginning may lead to the goal of success. In a great many cases, therefore, it is necessary to guide and direct the boy toward some desirable goal.

In many cases it is profitable to send a grammar school graduate to learn a trade than to send him to high school. That is usually the case with boys who do not care to study. If a boy does not lay his mind to study, it is useless to keep him at school. What he needs is hard work and plenty of it; but he should not be kept working in a cul-de-sac or a blind alley, so to speak, where there is no way open for advancement. Neither should he be allowed to work where the conditions are unfavorable to his health. It is important that he shall learn some specialty so well that he will have few competitors. That is the only kind of man who can hold a job where competition is active. Moreover, the man who specializes can earn more than the one who learns a smattering of a great many things. The boy problem is easy or difficult as the boy is obedient, intelligent and willing to do his best, or stubborn, shiftless and lazy.

For the average boy nothing can compensate for the lack of obedience. The stubborn boy who spurns the advice of his parents and seniors is like the intractable colt that runs away and gets smashed up. There is an age at which boys believe that they know about everything that is worth knowing. This usually lasts for a few years and then it gradually gives place to a more sensible state of mind in which there comes a realization that it is only by taking counsel with one another that we can make progress, and that not even the learned can afford to despise good counsel based on the teachings of experience.

NEW BATCH OF LAWS

Perhaps the most notable feature in the record of the legislature is the legislation making the state laws bearing on the liquor question conform to the provisions of the Volstead law. The state could not overrule the Volstead law; but prior to this act of the legislature, it had not put itself strictly in accord with the federal government on the 18th amendment.

As a result of the scandalous financing which resulted in the closing of several Boston banks, the legislature has enacted measures dealing more rigorously than formerly with anything in the nature of fraud, conspiracy or neglect by which the interests of a bank or its depositors may be injuriously affected. Under the present statutes any employee of a bank who misappropriates funds or who is guilty of fraud or larceny from a bank, may be punished by a fine of $2000 or by imprisonment for not more than two and a half years. Any person who willfully aids in such acts may be fined in the sum of $10,000 and imprisoned for not more than ten years. It is a peculiar feature of this law that the accessory is punished much more severely than the principal.

Another act which originated with Rep. Achin of Lowell providing that the head of a family in computing his gross income shall be entitled to a deduction of $250 for each child. The former law permitting such reduction only for two children. Another measure that will be appreciated gives assessors permission to abate 13 of the 35 poll tax in the case of World war veterans who were credited to other states but now reside in Massachusetts.

The movement to adopt a five cent fare in Boston was defeated for the reason that it would shift the burden of paying a large deficit from the riders to the shoulders of the taxpayers. Mayor Curley made a big fight for a five cent fare in Boston; but the logic of facts was against him and despite his appeal, his bill was defeated.

KEEPING WELL

Dr. Sawyer, who is physician to President Harding, predicts that future doctors will be paid "for keeping people well rather than for caring for them when they are sick."

That is the Chinese system. Over there, the doctor is paid so much a day as long as the patient is well. On days when the patient is sick, Doc gets no pay, which gives him an incentive to do his work thoroughly and not overlook any hints.

It wouldn't work in our country, where people usually stay away from the doctor until they are afraid of making the undertaker's acquaintance. We cure the Chinese prevent.

LENIN'S TROUBLE

Leading German doctors grab their pill bottles and rush to Lenin, who is bothered lately by acute gastritis. This means, that at some time or other Lenin has abused his stomach. A hyper-thyroid of his type usually eats too much, in the attempt to generate excessive energy.

Three-fourths of our sickness is due to what we eat. There are many health rules in this world but the best of them is this: "Find out what foods do not agree with you. Then never touch them. One man's meat is another man's poison." This is a good rule for Lenin or anybody else.

PRICES RISING

Wholesale prices advanced a trifle during May. But on June 1 you could buy at wholesale for $11.50 the same general stuff that cost $9.57 on June 1, 1921. This is shown by Bradstreet's index of wholesale prices of 35 leading necessities.

In other words, wholesale prices are 21 per cent higher than before the war. Wholesale prices lead the way for retail prices. What is due to happen? Will retail prices drop to meet wholesale or will wholesale prices rise to meet retail? "The big fortunes of the next few years will be made by the ones who cure the Chinese prevent, correctly."

It is now alleged that the heech that is being dispensed by bootleggers is doctored with deadly dope. It is guaranteed to kill if taken in the quantity that ordinarily might be expected to produce a mild "jag."

The textile business of New England is being seriously injured by the industrial conflicts in progress in several of the mill cities. The general public asks when or how will it all end.

The school board should hold its private conferences in the afternoon so as to be able to start its meetings at the appointed time.

Poisoned glue is put in Bibles to kill book worms; but the book worms know don't spend much time in reading the Bible.

SEEN AND HEARD

In spite of the fact that financial experts are saying business is better, it is.

In Georgia, a man was on the jury that gave his wife a divorce. That makes it unanimous.

Boston has a "temoravious" heat wave. Any other town would have said what the weather was as hot as.

A Thought

Nine things to night required are: The power to see, the light, the visible thing, Being not too small, too thin, too high, too far, Space clear, and time, the form distinct to bring.

—Sir John Davies.

Laying Down a Barrage

"Do you hear from your son at Mr. Gracie?" "Early and often," said Mr. Gracie. "I get two or three letters a week by mail, telegraph and long distance that I hesitate to listen to with my radio outfit for fear I'll hear some voice making another appeal."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Modern Civilization

"What is civilization?" asks a California writer. "It is where you stand on a street corner and wait for 10 street cars, 100 automobiles, 60 motorcycles, 25 bikes, a dozen motor trucks, a few fire engines, the police patrol, a hurry-up ambulance and a funeral to pass before you dare make a try for the opposite corner."—San Francisco Chronicle.

Fear of the Cold

An odd objection to leaving her native land came from an English girl who had offered a position in New Zealand at good wages. "I should like the money," she said, "but I could never bear the cold." She was assured that the climate of New Zealand was warmer than that of her own country, but refused to believe it, "for all the frozen meat comes from there."

The Next Train

There is an art in reading railway time tables. Farmer Brown knew nothing of it. "What time's the next train to town?" he asked the station agent. Having gained this information he turned away only to return a few moments later to ask the same question. "The only train to town," replied the agent, "is 'O. K.' but this time I'm asking for another fellow."

Selecting a Number

Dean Inge told a story recently that is likely to endanger his reputation for gloominess. He was remarking that the byways as well as the highways of church life furnish much to be learned. He proceeded to relate the story of a certain rector's cook. One evening they allowed her to choose the hymn for family prayers. When the ceremony was over the vicar's wife said to her, "That was a very nice hymn you chose this evening, cook."

"Yes, mum," said the cook, "it's the number of my policeman."

Helping Mother

A teacher at a certain private school strives to instill filial devotion in her pupils. Recently she asked her class in which way they had been helping their parents. Various answers were given of a more or less to-be-expected nature until she reached a little girl who had been casting rather contemptuous glances at the humdrum reports. When her turn came the eyes of the others were fixed on her as she lived in an opulent home that boasts a staff of servants. "Well, Grace," the teacher asked, "what have you been doing to help your mother?" "I love her," was the scornful response of Grace, "but mostly I go to the Country club and get cigars for her."

Today's Word

Today's word is ironic. It's pronounced iron-ee, with accent on the second syllable. It means—characterized by a kind of humor or light sarcasm which adopts a mode of speech implying the opposite of the literal sense of the words. "The distinguished quality of irony," says an eminent authority, "is that the meaning intended is contrary to that seemingly expressed; one says one thing and means the opposite." It is the reverse of wit, meaning a dissimulation or concealment of real facts. "It's used like this," "To the persons who have criticized him for efforts to keep down coal prices, despite the strike, Secretary of Commerce Hoover has returned an ironic answer."

"A Piece of Plastic Clay"

I took a piece of plastic clay And, idly fashioned it one day. And as my fingers pressed it still It bent and yielded to my will.

I came again when days were past, The bit of clay was hard at last. The form I gave it still it bore. But I could change that form no more.

I took a piece of living clay. And gently formed it day by day. And moulded it with power and art. A young child's soft and yielding heart.

I came again when years were gone, The was a man I looked on. The early imprint still he bore. But I could change him then no more.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

The high winds of Sunday and Monday, brought on by the miniature hurricane which swept New York state and certain parts of New England, must have recalled to mind Dr. Drummond's famous poem, "The Winds of the Jule Plante." Dr. Drummond, a McGill university graduate, gained fame far and wide through this poem. It contains the lines so often quoted, "The wind who blow lak a hurricane, bimby she blow some mo—but you can't get down on Lak Champlain if you stay on top de shore."

The step taken in Boston recently which will permit the awarding of medals to the police and fire department members would not be such a bad one to follow in this city. The medals will be presented, one each year, to that member of either department, who shows by his conduct that he is the bravest man. A fund has been presented to the city from which the medals will be purchased. Lowell blue-coats and smoke-eaters are as brave as any in the country and it gives the chance will prove it. The only trouble with making such awards is that the men might take unnecessary chances in the desire to be publicly commended.

The warm spell of the past week caused many to dig down into the canyons to rescue Palm Beach suits so carefully laid away last fall. Among the many suits appearing during the latter part of the week, was one of a light creamy color, worn by a young man. He was greeted with "Ah! the kies of spring is with us," and several other similar remarks. To add to the general fun-making the young man was offered several jobs as a painter and one or two as a plasterer. He was stopped by several people who wanted to know how the weather was down south and other information regarding the doings below the Mason and Dixon line. After two days of such treatment he decided he was a stride or two ahead of the local fashion and visiting a local clothing store purchased a new outfit, a little more sombre.

There is more or less of an air of mystery surrounding that beautiful bouquet of daisies which has been reposing on the desk of genial Philip Dwyer, a sergeant connected with the criminal investigation department of the local police. The floral tribute arrived some time during the storm of Sunday and lay drooping on the sergeant's desk until Monday morning when the janitor, who is somewhat of a lover of flowers, dug up a vase, arranged the bouquet and placed it tastily in a position where it could be admired. Gazing on the bouquet, a visitor to the inspector's department said to Sgt. Dwyer, "Them's beautiful flowers, sergeant." The reply came back, "Yeh, them's beautiful, sure enough." The inspector is known to be a great lover of flowers and his friends are evidently aware of the fact.

GEORGE W. ALDRIDGE DIES ON GOLF LINKS

NEW YORK, June 14.—The body of George W. Aldridge, collector of the port of New York, who died yesterday on the golf links at Rye was taken to the Aldridge home in Rochester, N. Y., today.

The veteran republican leader had driven out to the Westchester-Biltmore Country club with Charles D. Hilles, republican national committee man from New York; Ralph A. Day, state prohibition director and George Sweeney.

The foursome was at the ninth hole. Mr. Aldridge had driven off and was following his ball when the others in the party saw his caddy waving his arms. They ran up and found Mr. Aldridge unconscious.

Death was due to embolism of an artery of the heart.

UNVEIL MONUMENT TO FRANCIS SCOTT KEY

BALTIMORE, June 14.—A monument to Francis Scott Key, erected by congress near the spot in Fort McHenry, over which floated "The Star Spangled Banner," was to be unveiled today. President Harding, motoring from Washington for the day, was to accept the memorial for the nation.

The exercises were to begin at 4 o'clock, but the president was expected to reach Fort McHenry before that time so that he might visit the sick and disabled soldiers at the Public Health Service hospital.

Amplifiers were established to carry the president's words to all parts of the city and through the broadcasting station of the Baltimore American to the borders of Virginia, West Virginia, Delaware and Pennsylvania.

It has been announced that the president and Mrs. Harding will be the guests of Senator and Mrs. Joseph Irwin Francis at dinner before starting on their return to Washington.

The Key Memorial, designed by Charles H. Niehaus of New York, commands a sweeping view of the Patapsco river, and the harbor. The colossal bronze figure that tops the memorial is that of a Greek youth, symbolizing "The Spirit of Music."

TO CALL MORE WITNESSES AT WILBURN TRIAL

CHARLESTOWN, W. Va., June 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Counsel for both sides in the case of the Rev. J. W. Wilburn, indicted in connection with the killing of a Logan deputy sheriff, during the labor disturbances in Logan and Boone counties last year, today were considering the advisability of summoning witnesses.

The ruling of Judge Woods that the admission of evidence during the entire time of the trial would be permitted, as it was understood that only witnesses were here who could testify as to the actual case in hand.

This case involves the killing of Deputy John Gore and two others at Blair Gap in Logan by a party of men who, according to testimony, were under the leadership of the defendant.

Prospects were that the trial would take much more time than anticipated which was estimated at between 10 days and two weeks at first.

CONFESSED CAUSING BIG HALIFAX EXPLOSION

SEATTLE, Wash., June 14.—Canadian and United States authorities are investigating the alleged confession of William Johnson, alias N. Primatchonk, that he caused the explosion of the three British ammunition ships in the harbor of Halifax, N. S., in 1917, resulting in many deaths and great destruction, it became known today.

Johnson committed suicide in a lonely spot in Skagit county last month. The alleged confession, fed into the minds of the British, a few weeks before Johnson killed himself.

It was established that Johnson, a graduate of a European university, and an expert chemist, was in Halifax at the time of the explosion, according to officers. A quantity of alleged radical literature was found in his effects, after his death.

Berton Bralley's Daily Poem INSPIRATIONS

The poet said, "I will make a song,
To stir the souls of the surging throng,
To thrill each heart
With its magic art,
Till the world shall chant my name!"
And the song he made was a splendid thing,
With a mighty sweep and a glorious swing,
But the World said, "Yes,
It is fine, we guess—
Say, how was the baseball game?"
But the poet didn't especially care
For he had met with a maiden fair,
And he wrote, one day,
Just a simple lay
To say that he held her dear;
And the World said, "Gee, that's a pretty thing
With a joyous hit and a tender ring!"
And that song was sung
By the old and young
And it echoed around the spheres!

Chalifoux's CORNER

THE STORE OF ABSOLUTE SATISFACTION

CAN YOU IDENTIFY YOUR CAR?

Could you recognize your own car, if it were stolen?

Before answering with a positive "yes," remember this:

The professional auto thief covers up all possible traces of identification. He repaints the car, changes the serial numbers on the engine and chassis, searches out all other tell-tale marks to change or abolish them, and in fact rebuilds the entire machine.

What chance is there for the motorist whose car has been stolen, to identify it? Little, say police and insurance men. They back up their claim by citing instances wherein several car owners brought to headquarters to identify their cars, picked the same automobile as their own.

Unique Rebuilt

Slight imperfections in certain cars are not certain means of identification. The experienced crook takes his stolen cars to what is practically a rebuilding factory, alters the entire mechanism and changes parts with similar parts of other cars of the same make. Practically a new car is turned out.

Most practical means of identifying your car, according to those who have studied this problem, is left to the owner's own ingenuity. Individual marks stamped on various parts of the chassis and engine, afford the surest way of picking your own car after it has been stolen.

Individual Marks

Punch your initials on the flywheel, on the inside of the axle, and other such spots not readily discernible. Then rub them with grease, so they will not be seen easily.

Or, at a set place measured off from the front end, punch a hole in the fender with lead and smear the spot with grease. Location of this mark, if the car has been recovered after theft, could be certain proof of ownership.

INCREASED VALUE IN THE DODGE

The new Dodge Brothers' models have arrived at the Lowell Motor Mart and that they have lived up to expectations entertained by the local agents is evident even to the casual observer, as the company has added more value for the money spent than it was possible to anticipate in view of the fact that the old models there was more transportation purchased dollar for dollar than could be found in any other automobile built to sell at much higher prices.

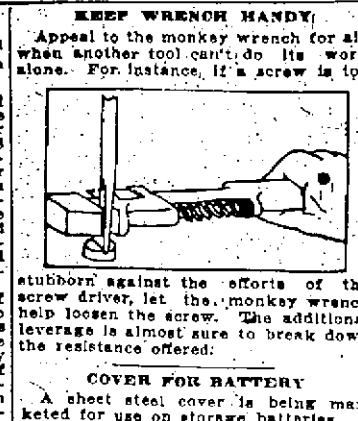

In short the Dodge with these new features is as near perfection in every way as it is humanly possible to make an automobile.

THREE CARLOADS OF TRUCKS

The Church Street Motor Co. received yesterday afternoon a large consignment of International Trucks in all models, and they are now on exhibition in its showrooms on Church street. This should be welcome news to anyone interested in automobile transportation as there is sufficient variety of models to be able to solve anybody's problem, no matter how large or small, or volume of trucking.

KEEP WRENCH HANDY

Appeal to the monkey wrench for aid when another tool can't do its work alone. For instance, if a screw is too stubborn against the efforts of the screw driver, let the monkey wrench help loosen the screw. The additional leverage is almost sure to break down the resistance offered.

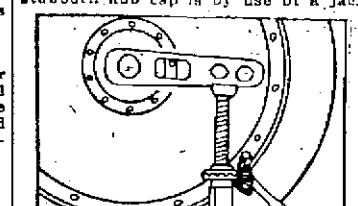

COVER FOR BATTERY

A sheet steel cover is being marketed for use on storage batteries. It is said to keep the battery acid-proof and insulated against short circuits. The cover fits over the sides, where ventilation is afforded.

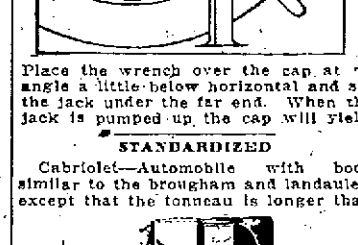

JACK REMOVES HUB CAP

An easy way to unscrew the most stubborn hub cap is by use of a jack.

ELECTRIC GAS SAVER

Surplus current from the generator can be made to save gasoline. A coil of special alloy is placed between the manifold and carburetor and connected in series with the charging line between the battery and generator. Generator current keeps the coil red hot so that all gasoline from the carburetor is sure to be converted to a gaseous state.

PIPE ADDS LEVERAGE

If you find it hard to loosen a nut with a small wrench, you may add leverage and power by hitting an iron pipe over the free end of the wrench.

AUTO NOTES

Three-fourths the number of motor vehicles produced in 1920 were put out last year.

More than 4,600,000,000 gallons of gasoline were consumed by motorists last year.

Registration of motor vehicles in the United States has increased 55 per cent since Jan. 1, 1920.

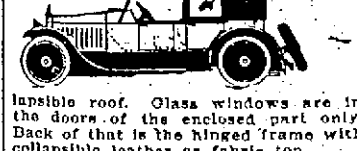

Motor vehicle manufacturing business represents a total capital investment of $1,422,800,000.

Wholesale value of 1921 output of motor vehicles totaled $2,212,064,430.

Crude rubber consumed in 1921 tire production totaled 375,000,000 pounds.

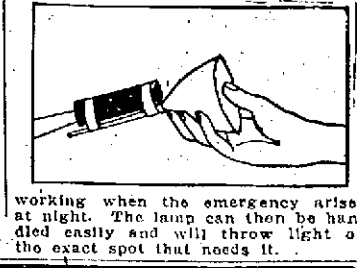

STANDARDIZED

Landulet—Automobile body similar to the brougham, with smaller seating capacity in the tonneau and a collapsible leather or fabric top.

HANDY NIGHT LIGHT

Attach a flashlight by a cord to the tool with which you happen to be working when the emergency arises at night. The lamp can then be handled easily and will throw light on the exact spot that needs it.

How to Play Baseball

Watch Second Base at All Times, Says Evans

BY BILLY EVANS
American League Umpire and Service Editor, N. Y. Times

Second base is the keystone of the double play. A majority of the double plays made in a ball game pivot around second base. Proper execution of a double play very often means the difference between winning and losing a ball game.

During the major league season, I see at least thirty games lost each year simply because slow or improper handling of the ball prevented the completion of what should have been a double play.

At all times there should be a man covering second base ready to make a throw. This player must be either the second baseman or the shortstop, depending on conditions.

Having the location of the base definitely fixed in one's mind, the player rushes over to the base mechanically.

to handle a throw and no time is lost. The shortstop and second baseman shift their position to meet conditions. With a batter up known as a right fielder, the second baseman moves ten or fifteen feet closer to first base, while the shortstop moves the much closer to second. With a left fielder up, conditions are just the reverse. The second baseman moves closer to second, and the shortstop shifts in the direction of third.

Backward Test
Never being in a fixed position, the distance the shortstop or second baseman must cover to reach second to take a throw, constantly varies. That is why it is necessary to have the location of second definitely fixed in your mind. It sounds easy but it takes practice.

I have often seen major league players drawn out of position by some hard hit ball, having their backs to second base, yet completing the play by a perfect back-bend and throw of the ball to the player covering the base.

Such plays are made possible by practice plus team play.

MASS. MILL. TEAM MAKES GOOD SHOWING BUT LOSES TO K. OF C.

New Twilight League Member Plays Fine Ball, But Daley's Classy Pitching and Snappy Playing and Timely Hitting of Teammates Brings 2 to 1 Victory to Knights

The Massachusetts Mills' ball tossers made their debut in the Twilight league last night, and showed enough class to mark themselves as sure-enough contenders. Unfortunately, however, they were greeted by Parley Daley, the Knights of Columbus manager, and pitching star, and despite the fact that they worked hard and earnestly were on the small end of a 2 to 1 score when the last man was out.

Daley was in his usual form, which meant that his catur at a premium. Seven of Bob Ganley's proteges were sent back to the bench on strike outs, and even with a measly four hits and three bases on balls were unable to penetrate the "Cansey" defense for more than a solitary tally. For the third time in succession the Knights played an errorless game. They showed their prowess by getting to say Farwell's Textile school fame for six hits, two or three of them of the scratch variety, and assisted by two errors and one free pass scored the necessary two runs. Farwell managed to make Loftus and Harrington for the breeze in the fourth stanza.

Orrie Allen, Cheswick and Souza of the disbanded South Ends were in the mill team's lineup, and Allen gave one of the best fielding exhibitions ever seen on the common. He accepted twelve chances with but one error, making five assists and six putouts. He was easily the star of the Ganley outfit.

For the K. of C., Purcell contributed a spectacular catch in the fifth inning. Right after the first man up for the mill team, sent a fly into foul territory far back of third base, but Purcell, who had started back with the crack of the bat, caught it with his back turned to the plate. Harrington made a hard running catch in the same inning and the third out was effected by Paddy McGowan, when Farwell drove a liner at him which nearly drove him to right field.

After the Knights had been retired in the first inning, with no damage other than a scratch hit by McGowan, McElaine started the scoring by reaching first on a short fly hit, advancing on Souza's fly ball in front of the plate and Cheswick's sacrifice fly and scoring on Allen's single. Farwell followed with a base on balls, stolen second, and attempted to score on the same short hit to center, but was out at the plate.

The game proceeded without further scoring until the fifth, of the features being the striking out of three in succession in the second by Daley and the retirement of the Massachusetts boys in the fourth with the bases choked. In the fifth, however, the K. of C. tied the score, when, with one out, Farwell issued to Two-way his only free pass, and after Dilley had made the second out with a pop, to Allen, Daley hit sharply to right and Davis let it through. Two-way scoring and Daley landing on third. Although Crowe grounded out to first the error was a costly one, for in the first of the sixth Buckley struck to left, stole second, went to third on an error by Allen and scored on Harrington's long fly to Souza. The game thereafter was featureless, except for Willey's single in the seventh, which went for naught. The score:

TWILIGHT LEAGUE NOTES
The new entry seems to have the goods. Every member of the Ganley crew was on the alert from start to finish and but for Parley Daley's pitching might have won easily.

Noel's comeback was something of a surprise to those who thought he was all done. Besides taking everything that came his way at short he backed up second in the last half of the time before he returns league pitchers will have to watch him, for three

Californian Stars in Field Events

JOHNNY MERCHANT

The big colleges and universities of the east are weak in the field events. The victory of University of California in the recent intercollegiate meet, held at the Harvard stadium, has proved this fact.

If the effect east hopes to strive successfully against future invasions from the Californians more and better stars must be developed in the field events.

It was the second time in succession that the University of California, after traveling across the continent to compete, took down first honors in the intercollegiate meet.

Decisive, Yet Cheap
California won the meet with a goodly margin. It was a decisive yet a rather cheap victory. The Pacific coast athletes won the championship, despite the fact that the track candidates from California won was a bare five points.

In the sprint California did not take down a first or second. It was the same in the run. On the track California scored only one third and a rather cheap fourth.

When one considers the results in the recent meet the victory of California stands out as one of the most peculiar happenings in the history of the intercollegiate.

Supreme on Field
While California did little or nothing in the track events it was supreme on the field. That enabled it to win decisively.

The coast athletes piled up 35½ points in the field events. The triumph of California was a victory of muscle over speed.

On the field California showed a remarkable athlete in Johnny Merchant. He scored 13 points all by his lonesome. In so doing he broke a record in the hammer throw.

The big disappointment from a California standpoint was the failure of Kierkeby, the star sprinter, to show to advantage.

RECALLS BRAVES' DRIVE OF 1914

Gowdy Hero of 1914 Was Hero Again Yesterday When Tribe Beat Pirates

NEW YORK, June 14.—The Braves may not duplicate this year their remarkable achievement of 1914, when they fought their way from the cellar to the top, won the pennant, and triumphed in the World Series, but right now they are starting a drive reminiscent of that feat and upstaging championship contenders right and left.

Hank Gowdy, hero of the 1914 champions and the team's only playing survivor of that outfit, was a hero again yesterday when the Braves humbled the Pirates for the third time in four games, 5 to 3. The result gave Boston a record of nine victories out of 13 games with the leading three clubs of the league, including three out of four from St. Louis and three straight from the Giants. The Braves also have a clean sweep of four games with the Cardinals in the recent western invasion and although still a few games behind the top three clubs, they have won only three games from the first division.

Giants Continue To Win
The Giants, meanwhile, outplugged Cincinnati for their fourth straight from the Reds, 7-6, and had a margin of four games over the Cardinals, who have won only one game since their opening day.

Two other first division clubs in the National fell to the way side. Philadelphia's International league recruit Singleton, blanking St. Louis while his mates clubbed out 16 hits for four runs over the Cardinals and Brooklyn boxing before the Cubs and Alexander's pitching prowess, 8-3.

Charles Robertson of the White Sox came close to duplicating his no-hit no-run feat, when he held Boston to two safe hits, the first of which came in the eighth and won, 6-0.

Mauling Shawkey, O'Doul for 16 hits and a 13-4 victory, the St. Louis Browns obtained an even break in the series with the Yankees, George Sinker leading the attack with four hits, including two triples.

Ty Cobb, with two doubles and a single, finished the night for the Tigers with three hits in four games with Washington, 5-1, a home run by Harris saving the Senators from a shutout.

McTEAGUE HOPES TO BOX CARPENTIER

NEW YORK, June 14.—Mike McTeague, boxer, was a passenger for Paris today on the President Adams. He hopes to arrange a bout with the trainer, William Bachrach, who has been promised with George Carpentier, light heavyweight champion of the world.

CHALLENGER HONOLULU SWIMMER
HONOLULU, T. H., June 14.—(By the Associated Press) Johnny Weismuller, swimming marvel of the Illinois Athletic club, Chicago, through his trainer, William Bachrach, today challenged Warren Konohe, of Hukamaki, Honolulu, to a 100 yard tank back stroke swimming race on any date to be selected by the Hawaiian branch of the A.A.U.

STONY BROOK TWILIGHT LEAGUE
There was a large attendance at the Stony Brook Twilight league game played last evening in West Chelmsford between a team representing that town and the Billerica aggregation. The score was 1 to 3 in favor of the Billerica players.

PAWTUCKET SCHOOL TEAM PROTESTS GAME

June 13, 1922.

Dear Sporting Editor:

Monday afternoon the Green school defeated the Pawtucket school by the score of 9 to 7. As manager of the Pawtucket school team I wish to protest the game. I wish to bring out several points. On one occasion early in the game with Brumham on second, Gilbert struck out. The Green school catcher dropped the ball on the third strike and in trying to get Gilbert out at first he made an overthrow, the ball going into right field. A Green school pitcher in right field relayed the ball to the second baseman who put out Gilbert who went to second on the overthrow. The umpire, disagreeing and Achin who was umpire on bases said he was safe, but Howe who was umpire on balls and strikes only, said he was out and it had to go as an out.

Again in another inning the Green school shifted the batting order putting up a heavy hitter in the wrong order. This man knocked a two-base hit. The Pawtucket protested against the allowing of the juggling of the batting order. The umpire said the man was automatically out and Howe and Roane agreed with him. Suddenly Howe changed his decision and said the man was safe. The next man up hit and the run scored.

We do not like to be called poor sportsmen, but this is the second time this has been pulled on us. Monday's game was originally scheduled to be played several weeks ago. On the scheduled date the Green school failed to show up, so the game should have been forfeited to the Pawtuckets. We were good sports and wanted to have a fair show with the Green so we agreed to play Monday.

After the deal we received Monday I know we are right in protesting the game. If the umpire on balls and strikes can overrule the decision of the umpire on bases on a decision pertaining to the bases, it is a new one on us.

In protesting the game we feel we have the public with us, as anyone who saw the game Monday will admit we did not receive a square deal.

Respectfully,
HOWTHORNE ROBY,
Manager of the Pawtucket School B.

HARVARD PLANT TO MAKE ROOT BEER

Final papers were passed today between the present owners of the well known Harvard plant, formerly the Harvard Brewing company, and J. Juerst, former superintendent of the Harvard company, and Harmland Gervais, a well known business man and former distributor of the famous Harvard products, co-partners, both of the city. Plans for this new enterprise, considering last year and after many long conferences and arrangements, they have now been realized.

The famous "Harvard Root Beer" will be put on the market in bulk as soon as alterations at the plant, which have been going on for months, are finished and when the equipment is complete.

It is said that the newly formed company, which will be known as the Harvard Beverage Co., has set aside an entire building of the Harvard plant where the manufacture of the root beer is to be started at once. Juerst, a well known expert in the manufacture of beverages, is the originator of the many Harvard products made by the former Harvard Co., and his knowledge will be used in producing a highly superior article, which is doubt will be appreciated by all. Mr. Gervais, a great connoisseur in beverages, realizing the sterling merit of this product, takes pleasure in offering to the public this wholesome and delicious root beer.

ALL DAY PICNIC AT SILVER LAKE

Following yesterday's public presentation of "A Masque of Conservation," by Constance d'Arcy Mackay, at which about 200 visitors were present, the graduating class of the Lowell Normal school resumed its commencement week activities today with an all-day picnic at Silver Lake. The trip was made by automobile and trolley, and the 100 or more young ladies started out about 10 o'clock this forenoon with great expectations of a joyful day. President Mary I. McKay and other members of the class were in general charge.

Tomorrow will be class day for the seniors. A reception is to be held in the school hall, to which all the members of the Junior class will be invited. Miss Inez Field Damon, the faculty member whom this year's class has chosen as an honorary member, will also be present. Miss Damon is the well known director of music at the school, and eight of her class for music supervisors are among the graduates.

After the indoor reception the class members, with their president, officiating for the body, will plant ivy before the school in commemoration of the happy days of their training and comradeship within its walls.

A total of 110 young women will receive their diplomas at exercises to be conducted at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, with Payson Smith, L.L.D., commissioner of education, speaking as orator of the day, on "The Teacher — A Maker of Citizens." The senior dancing party will be held in the school hall in the evening.

We would hate to be a rich man's son and have to stay in trouble nearly all the time.

Disabled Veterans Will Open Fight on Madhouses!

BY JUDGE ROBERT S. MARK
National Commander, the Disabled American Veterans of the World War
CINCINNATI, June 12.—The disabled American veterans of the world war will hold their second national convention at San Francisco, June 26 to 30. This meeting will be the greatest gathering of wounded and disabled heroes ever held in America.

At it will be laid plans for bringing real social services and relief to America's wounded and disabled veterans, to the end that not a single man who gave his most priceless possession—his health—to his country during the war shall ever suffer or want.

The convention will demand immediate action to get our mentally disabled comrades out of contract asylums, like Longview, near Cincinnati, where soldiers are mixed with civilians and tubercular patients in buildings so overcrowded that more than 200 patients sleep on the floor every night.

Immediate relief for men who lost their lungs in the war and are now—

hundreds of them—walking the streets of western cities in search of proper hospitalization, will be demanded.

The convention will demand that the program of vocational training be carried out to such a point that real rehabilitation will result in the disabled veteran being able to secure employment at a living wage.

Measures will be taken to secure adequate compensation for men who are not receiving it, and to straighten out inequalities and injustices in compensation ratings.

Extension of time for filing claims on the part of tubercular and mental cases will be urged.

Preference for disabled veterans will be demanded at the government in giving employment to men and women in positions.

Three Lowell Young Men Will Receive Degrees To Be Conferred on Lowell Young Men Their A. B. Degree at Holy Cross College June 21 at the Commencement Exercises of Boston University on Monday Next

ALBERT L. BOURGEOIS

EDWARD J. SAUNDERS

VINCENT M. MCCARTIN

PAUL J. ANGELO

JOSEPH J. COUPE

JOHN A. MCGUIRE, JR.

Three Lowell young men will be graduated from Holy Cross college with the degree of bachelor of arts at the annual commencement exercises on June 21. They are Albert L. Bourgeois, Vincent M. McCartin and Edward J. Saunders. The first named will be graduated 'magna cum laude', while all three have passed through the four years of their college life most successfully.

Albert L. Bourgeois is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fabiola Bourgeois, of 40 Arlington street, and graduated from the Bartlett school in 1914, and the Lowell high school in 1918, where he was lieutenant-colonel of the high school regiment. His college career is replete with notable achievements, and as a fitting climax to four years of energetic work, he has been chosen as one of the four speakers who will make addresses on graduation day. Because of excellence in scholarship, Mr. Bourgeois will be graduated 'magna cum laude'. His other activities included the secretaryship to the 'Purple', the college monthly and membership in the Varsity debating team. Next year he expects to pursue the study of law at Harvard.

Vincent M. McCartin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael McCartin of 236 Rogers street, and is a product of the Moody grammar school and the Lowell high school, class of 1917. Because of the war, Mr. McCartin lost one year of school, but has made ample restitution for the time spent in the service. Besides his scholastic duties, Mr. McCartin found time to engage in athletics, being a member of the track team for four consecutive years. He was also a member of the Glee club of the college and the Aquinas circle, an organization of seniors. He expects to teach school in September.

The third local representative is Edward J. Saunders, son of Mrs. Alice Saunders, of 404 Andover street, who graduated from St. Patrick's school in 1914, afterwards attending the Lowell high school for two years. He then entered Boston College high school, from which he was graduated in 1918. At Holy Cross, he has ranked well, both as a student and athlete. He was elected marshal of 'Holy Cross Night' in his senior year and was president of the Glee club. He was also art editor of the 'Purple Patch', the year book of the graduating class and in one of the most popular students at the Worcester institution. He is undecided as to future plans.

Four Lowell young men, Paul J. Angelo, Joseph J. Coupe, John A. McGuire, Jr., and James H. Riley, will be the recipients of bachelor of law degrees at the commencement exercises of Boston university in Symphony hall, Boston, at 10:30 o'clock next Monday morning, when President L. H. Murlin will confer nearly 700 degrees. The local additions to the legal fraternity will then, after duly passing the bar examination, be full-fledged attorneys.

Paul J. Angelo is the son of Mr. James J. Angelo of 51 Pond street. Receiving his early training at the Moody and high schools, he went directly to Boston university, where he has met with excellent success in his legal studies.

Graduating from the high school in 1918, Angelo had the honor of being president of his class. While in high school he was prominent in military affairs, attaining the rank of major in his senior year, and at the same time was equally well known as a member of the O.M.I. Cadets. At the close of his high school career he entered an officers' training camp. Taking up the study of piano, he speedily gained proficiency, and is regarded today as one of the best pianists and teachers in the city. He entered local politics last fall, when he was a candidate for councilor from ward five. He is a member of Phi Delta Phi, a prominent legal fraternity. Mr. Angelo is 22 years of age.

Joseph J. Coupe, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Coupe of 181 School street, receives his degree of LL.B. at the age of 21. He was graduated from the St. Angela school, New York city, in 1914, and attended Regis high school until 1918, when he came to Lowell and graduated from the local high school in 1919. He is a member of Phi Delta Phi fraternity. He will take the bar examinations on July 1, and will then practice law in Lawrence, Mass.

John A. McGuire, Jr., lives at 261 Foster street. He is a graduate of Lowell high school, class of 1912, and was first lieutenant of Company A while a student in that school.

Mr. McGuire has been very successful in his law studies, and among his fellow students he enjoys a wide popularity. His attainment of the LL.B. degree will afford his numerous friends in this city a great deal of pleasure.

Mr. McGuire intends to enter upon the practice of law as soon as possible.

James H. Riley, the popular chairman of the school committee, is the son of Mrs. Mary F. Riley of 39 Medford street. Receiving his early education in the Varum and high schools, he entered Canisius college at Buffalo, N. Y., later transferring to Boston college, where he received the degree of bachelor of arts. At the completion of his scholastic course, he entered upon the study of law at Boston University, and the LL.B. which he will receive Monday will give him two degrees to add to his name.

Mr. Riley was chosen a member of the school committee last December as the result of a clean-cut, active campaign, and his selection as chairman followed as a matter of course. He, too, is expected to enter the legal profession as an active member of the bar.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Today's Session Devoted to Cases Having to do With Milk Law Violations

The 15 minutes session of the district court today was given over to the trial of cases having to do with the violation of milk laws. David Saperstan, who conducts a place at 63 Railroad street, a second offender, was fined $50 for selling milk without a license. George Boudreau was fined $10 for having in his possession milk below the standard required by law. The law says that there must be 12 per cent of solids and 3.35 per cent butterfat. A test of samples taken from the defendant's room showed the milk to be slightly under these requirements.

Saperstan attempted to tell the court several times what should be done and how Inspector Coughlin should perform his duties. The court interrupted Saperstan's oratory long enough to ask him if he was running the court. Saperstan replied in the negative, whereupon the judge told him that he would issue all orders deemed necessary.

David averred that he thought Coughlin should have wanted himself and his wife regarding illegal sales. He said that Coughlin was paid for such things and that he was a smart man. The court asked Saperstan, "Well, you are a smart man too, aren't you?"

Saperstan replied: "Yes, but I'm only half as smart as the inspector."

The defendant was brought into court on May 10 and fined $20 for not having a license. On May 24 Inspector Coughlin said that he visited the store and found evidence of sales. He also testified that Mrs. Saperstan had followed him down the street on two occasions attempting to get a license. Inspector Coughlin told the court that she would be given license the same as anyone else if her place of business was put in proper condition.

The case of Charles Thomas, charged with larceny, was continued to June 21.

The bearers were Milton John R. Aldrick and Kenneth D. McKinnon, sons of the deceased. Burial took place in the family lot in the Lowell cemetery, where the committal service was read by Rev. Mr. Speck. The funeral was in charge of David Gillis, under the direction of Undertaker William H. Saunders.

The accident occurred in Middlesex street, near the junction with Branch street. The little girl was not seriously injured.

TO CONFER WITH BOARD

Mayor George H. Brown stated today that he will confer with the board of public service before making any recommendations that, if voted, would mean a shake-up in departments coming under the jurisdiction of the board.

Changes that the mayor has in mind would make Joseph Garrity superintendent of streets and transfer Harry P. Doherty, the present superintendent, to the superintendency of the collection of ashes and waste collection. Sutton Wilson, ash division superintendent, whose tenure of office expires next Saturday now that a civil service eligible list has been established, would be retained as a stock clerk and utility man, with a reduction in pay. Michael H. Harrington of the water department who heads the new list for the ash division superintendency, would be cared for by making him an assistant to Supt. Robert Gardner and James H. Reynolds, who now occupies that position, would be given the title of engineer of the filtration plant.

The mayor frankly said that he has not given the contemplated changes a great deal of thought, but, if made, feels that they would work out to the advantage of all departments involved. He brought out the fact that they would not mean any increase in salary rolls.

Particularly, the mayor spoke of the idea to promote Joseph Garrity from assistant superintendent to superintendent, and expressed the belief that he is the logical man for the place.

It may be that the conference between the mayor and the public service board will come prior to tomorrow's meeting of the board and if so it is probable that recommendations covering the changes will be made at that time.

MATRIMONIAL

A large congregation attended the wedding of Mr. Victor James, a truckdriver, and Miss Cecile Latour, a popular young woman of Dracut, which took place this morning, at a beautiful mass celebrated at St. Louis church. The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock, by Rev. E. J. Vincent. The bride was handsomely attired in white silk with veils of georgette crepe. She wore a veil caught up with sweet peas and carried an ivory prayer book. She was given away by her father, Mr. Arthur Latour, while the groom was attended by his father, Mr. Noe Hamel. Little Miss Lorraine Hamel, a sister of the groom, acted as flower girl, she being attired in white point lace. She carried a large bouquet of sweet peas. During the service, hymns were sung by the children of Mary sodally choir, of which the bride was a member. Miss Rita Latour, an aunt of the bride, rendered Gounod's "Ave Maria," while Mrs. Antoinette Boudreau sang an "O Salutaris." Other hymns were also sung by Miss Rose Lusker, Miss Ida Mangrain, presiding in the organ. At the close of the ceremony, the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's grandfather, Mr. Louis Latour, in Hemlock street, Dracut, where a wedding breakfast was served to the immediate relatives of the couple. At noon, Mr. and Mrs. Hamel, who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts, left on an automobile honeymoon trip to Worcester, Springfield and New York. Upon their return, June 25, they will be tendered a reception at the home of the groom's parents, 27 Dorset street, and they will make their home. Last Friday evening, the bride, who is a popular employee of the Bay State Cotton Corp., was tendered a miscellaneous shower by her shopmates and was presented numerous gifts. She was also made the recipient of gifts by her former fellow-employees at the Lawrence Mfg. Co. At the same evening the groom was presented a purse of gold by his relatives.

Many bare flag poles dotted Lowell's skyline today, on the 14th observance of the adoption of the national emblem by the Continental Congress. Old Glory was conspicuous by its absence in many places, although there was a more general display of flags than is habitual week in and week out.

In many of the schools class room exercises were held this forenoon, but there were no set programs where the entire student body was called together. In several instances Gov. Cox's proclamation was read.

It was not difficult to count the number of flags flying from standards on buildings in Merrimack street between the square and city hall. The city hall flag was run up early this morning as well as the flags on the Associate, Thompson Hardware, Mechanics bank, A. G. Pollard, Chaffoux, Union bank, D. L. Page, The Sun and the Courier-Citizen buildings. The store of the Boston Ladies' Outfitters showed four smaller flags on the building front. The Massachusetts mill flag also was out. Two flags were noticed on the Bradley building in Central street.

At the Elks' club tonight exercises in observance of the day will be held, with an address to be delivered by John P. Farley.

ABBA HILLEL SILVER

BY ABBA HILLEL SILVER

God Built Him a continent of glory and filled it with treasures untold;
He carpeted it with soft-rolling prairies and crowned it with thundering mountains;
He studded it with sweet-flowing fountains and traced it with long-winding streams;
He planted it with deep-shadowed forests and filled them with song.
Then He called unto a thousand peoples and summoned the bravest among them.
They came from the ends of the earth, each bearing a gift and a hope.
The glow of adventure was in their eyes and in their hearts the glory of hope.
And out of the bounty of earth and the labor of men, out of the longing of hearts and the prayer of souls, out of the memory of ages and hopes of the world,
God fashioned a nation in love, blessed it with a purpose sublime—and called it AMERICA

"CASEY JONES" PULLS HOT ONE ON DENTIST

Another bunco scheme was added to the long list recorded in the police record book yesterday when a local dentist came forth with a woeeful tale of how he had been "gipped" out of $55 in cash and merchandise by a stranger who wasn't at all smooth in his make-up, but extremely smooth in his manner of attack.

Busily at work in his office, the heart of the dentist softened greatly as he noted a man in overalls and jumper come into the reception room and take a seat. The man awaited his turn and when asked what the trouble was related that he had lost a valuable set of false teeth. He added that he was a railroad engineer and had lost the teeth while looking from his cab window.

The now soft heart of the dentist became much softer as the "Casey Jones" unwound his tale, telling that he was a stranger in the city with little money on his jeans. The dentist agreed to replace the set of teeth, valued at $45, and to accept a $55 cheque in payment. The extra $10 was to allow the knight of the rails to have plenty of spending money while in the city. The dentist presented the cheque to a bank and found that it was worthless. Whereupon the man went the right hand of the dentist, who murmured "Never again."
